Troika 'Entrenches Cold War'

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

The chief points of President Kennedy's address to the UN General Assembly yesterday:

TROIKA—The United States rejects the Russian suggestion of a veto-loaded triumvirate to fill the late Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold's position because it would "entrench the cold war in the headquarters of peace."

* * *

DISARMAMENT—Six-point plan: 1. Test ban treaty. 2. Cease production of fissionable materials for use in weapons and their transfer to any nation lacking nuclear weapons. 3. Prohibit transfer of control of nuclear weapons to states that do not now own them. 4. Keep nuclear weapons from seeding new battlefields in outer space. 5. Gradual destruction of existing nuclear weapons and conversion of nuclear materials for peaceful uses. 6. Halt unlimited testing and production of strategic nuclear vehicles and gradually destroy them.

* * *

BERLIN—The Western powers have resolved to defend, by whatever means forced upon them, their obligations, the free access and rights of the citizens of West Berlin. Kennedy said he believes a peaceful agreement is possible and reported that the possibilities of negotiation are being explored.

* * *

UN PEACE FORCE—All UN members should earmark special peace-keeping units in their armed forces to be on call to the United Nations. He said the American delegation would suggest improvements in the UN machinery for on-the-spot fact-finding, mediation and adjudication of international disputes.

* * *

OUTER SPACE—The United Nations charter should be amended to preserve outer space for peaceful use and prohibit weapons of mass destruction in space or on celestial bodies. Kennedy said the United States would propose co-operative efforts in weather prediction and control and a global system of communication satellites for telegraph, telephone, radio and TV.

* * *

UN "DECADE OF DEVELOPMENT"—The 1960s should be designated as a "decade of development" to expand and co-ordinate UN efforts in promoting economic growth throughout the world.

Allies Hail Proposals

LONDON (Reuters)—The British, French and West German governments welcomed the disarmament proposals outlined before the United Nations General Assembly in New York by President Kennedy.

Britain gave its "full and enthusiastic support" to the proposals, a foreign office spokesman said.

SUPPORT PLEDGED

He said the United States government has "fully informed and consulted with their allies during all the stages of preparation" of the disarmament plan. "It has our full and enthusiastic support."

In Paris, usually well-informed sources said the French government approved of the president's proposals.

They noted that President Charles de Gaulle in his tour of south-central France last week emphasized the need for disarmament.

'HEARTY WELCOME'

In Bonn, a government spokesman said West Germany gave the "heartiest welcome" to Kennedy's proposals and the government would do all in its power to support them.

He said West Germany was ready to enter into any agreement on general and controlled disarmament that the major powers might make.

Khrushchev Removes Deadline

BONN (AP) — Premier Khrushchev is reported to have told Belgian Foreign Minister Paul Henri Spaak that he has removed the end-of-the-year deadline for a treaty with East Germany and "prefers slow negotiations to a quick war."

No 'Hostage'

British Foreign Secretary Lord Home was reported to have told Andrei Gromyko in New York yesterday that Soviet talk of Britain being a Moscow "hostage" against an outbreak of war is nonsense.

UN Agrees To Debate Red China

UNITED NATIONS (AP) —The United Nations General Assembly agreed Monday night to a full debate on the question of seating Red China. This is the first time in 10 years that the issue was not shelved.

Arms Cuts Urged In Easy Stages

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—The United States yesterday submitted to the General Assembly a new arms plan calling for outlawing weapons of mass destruction and stabilizing military strength of the major powers at 2,100,000 men.

The plan was submitted for Assembly consideration soon after President Kennedy proposed to the delegates that "disarmament negotiations resume promptly and continue without interruption until an entire program for general and complete disarmament has not only been agreed upon but has been actually achieved."

PEACE FORCE URGED

The proposal calls for creation of an international disarmament organization under the United Nations, elimination of weapons of a peace observation commission and restriction of space to peaceful uses.

IN STAGES

Main feature of the new plan, informed sources said, was that it would call for reduction of arms as each stage of the proposal is agreed upon.

Soviet Ambassador Valerian Zorin, in his recent New York talks with John McCloy, President Kennedy's disarmament adviser, served notice that Russia would not permit inspection until all details of a "general and complete" disarmament program were agreed upon.

RED CHINA, TOO

Communist China would be called upon, under the new U.S. plan, to participate in disarmament. It was not made clear, however, whether the Peking regime would be given a voice in negotiations.

Disarmament talks broke down at Geneva in June, 1960, when Russia walked out of a 10-nation forum, equally divided between Communist and Western countries. McCloy and Zorin last week informed the United Nations of their inability to agree on a set-up for resumption of talks.

Simplified, the new plan

PRESIDENT KENNEDY ... plan for peace

'Call Truce To Terror' —Kennedy

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — President Kennedy told the United Nations Monday the planet is in danger of being turned into a "flaming funeral pyre" and he pleaded:

"Let us call a truce to terror."

Addressing the 99-member General Assembly for the first time, Kennedy outlined a disarmament formula and challenged the Soviet Union to a "peace race" rather than an arms race.

The 44 year-old president sought to rally the smaller and neutral nations to the Western stand on such burning problems as disarmament, Berlin and the UN itself.

The United States has "both the will and the weapons" to defend freedom, Kennedy said, but it seeks peaceful negotiations not military conflict.

He vigorously attacked Premier Khrushchev's plan for a three-man "troika" to succeed the late UN Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold. The troika envisages a three-man executive directorate — representing the West, communism and neutralism — with three-way veto powers and which, in the view of the West, would render the UN impotent.

'Only Two Forces'

"In this hall there are not three forces, but only two," Kennedy declared. "One is composed of those who are trying to build the kind of world described . . . in the UN charter. The other, seeking a different world, would undermine this organization in the process."

Kennedy was interrupted six times by applause but it was difficult to tell whether this was warmer among delegates in the assembly or in the packed gallery.

Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko applauded the president as he took the rostrum but the Russian and the other members of his delegation were conspicuously silent and still during the speech and at its end, when Kennedy received a 40-second ovation. Later Gromyko told Kennedy when they met off the assembly floor, "you were in good form."

Senator A. J. Brooks, vice-chairman of the Canadian delegation, termed the speech "excellent." British Foreign Secretary Lord Home and Ambassador C. S. Jha of India used the same phrase—"a very fine speech."

Canada Takes Part

Spokesmen said Britain and Canada had taken part in drawing up Kennedy's six-point disarmament plan which seeks to re-open the East-West negotiations that collapsed in Geneva in June, 1960.

Kennedy devoted more space to disarmament than any other single subject, his plan mostly involving changes in timing to meet Russian objections. The plan provides for freezing of nuclear weapons production and possession virtually as soon as international controls to prevent cheating could be organized.

"The weapons of war must be abolished before they abolish us," Kennedy declared to applause.

He pressed Russia to sign with the U.S. and Britain immediately a treaty banning nuclear weapons tests under international controls. Such a treaty, said Kennedy, is "the logical place to begin" disarmament.

On Berlin, Kennedy said: "If there is a dangerous crisis in Berlin—and there is—it is because of threats against the vital interests and deep commitments of the Western powers, and the freedom of West Berlin."

Reds Create 'Death Zone' To Plug Trickle of Escapes

BERLIN (UPI) — Communist bulldozers ground out a 300-foot-wide zone of death on the East Berlin side of the city border yesterday, crushing summer houses and garden plots blocking a view of the barbed wire barricade.

The aim was to establish a strip the length of the 25-mile border to end even the trickle of escapees.

A dozen East Berliners fled to the West yesterday and another 20 made it to safety during the night but hundreds of others were forced into trucks and driven away.

BONN SURPRISED

Meanwhile, the news that Soviet Premier Khrushchev has indicated he may not rush through his separate peace treaty with East Germany was received with surprise by Bonn officials.

But political observers in Berlin noted that the East German propaganda machine no longer refers to any date in demanding conclusion of a German peace treaty and the turning of Berlin into a free demilitarized city.

* * *

'Had Enough'

West Germany's Chancellor Adenauer told a British TV audience last night he is thinking of retiring. The 85-year-old leader said, "I have had enough." He made little progress yesterday in talks to end the political deadlock in West Germany.

Canada 'Stirs Hate'

MOSCOW (CP)—The Soviet newspaper Red Star has accused "certain Canadian leaders" of stirring up a "war psychosis" in Canada.

The paper says Canadians, "obviously influenced by the militarist quarters of the United States," were using as a pretext for their alleged action "the proposal of the Soviet Union and other peace-loving countries to conclude a German peace treaty and normalize on its basis the situation in West Berlin."

Berlin Peace Seen by Green

TORONTO (UPI) — External Affairs Minister Howard Green said yesterday he is convinced the Berlin situation can be worked out and that it need not provoke a nuclear war.

Commonwealth Tolerance Urged

LONDON (Reuters)—Queen Elizabeth Monday formally opened the seventh parliamentary conference of the British Commonwealth whose members face the problem of Britain's possible entry into the European Common Market.

The 120 delegates from 64 countries attending the conference start business sessions today, and the Commonwealth's new role if Britain joins the European trade group was expected to dominate discussions.

Both the Queen and Prime Minister Macmillan spoke to the opening session of the five-day conference at historic Westminster Hall.

The Queen said the "strength and unity of the Commonwealth family does not lie in bonds forged by formal instruments nor in common ancestry nor in pursuing the same political line."

"It springs," she said, "from the knowledge that we all share a lively concern for individual freedom and all the machinery which makes this possible."

The Queen asked Commonwealth statesmen to try to "cultivate the virtues of tolerance and understanding, to recognize each other's qualities and respect each other's feelings."

Macmillan, speaking afterwards, said the Commonwealth could set an example to other nations in a world poised between "hope and despair."

He said the Commonwealth had the experience of "reconciling different approaches without abandoning national policies and independence."

LET'S TALK

By Rudolf Flesch

The other day I happened to pick up an old issue of Harper's, which contained an article by Aldous Huxley entitled "One God or Many? A Skeptic Looks at Religions."

The article was one of those flippant discussions of religion by someone who takes pride in not believing in anything. Just for the fun of it and to give his readers a pleasant bit of mental titillation—Huxley played around with the idea that polytheism is just as good as monotheism and that it's all really a matter of changing fashion.

"Almost any right-thinking man," he wrote, "would be ready, if you asked him what he believed in, to say, 'I believe in one God.' But why not in 64 gods, or 277 gods? Because monotheism is fashionable in 20th-century Europe.

Mr. Smith Believes

"Mr. Jones believes in one God because Mr. Smith believes in one God and, incidentally, because a good many centuries ago Plato and numerous Jews, including Jesus, believed in one God . . .

"But one psychological fact is as good as another: there is no conceivable method of demonstrating that God is either one or many. So far as human beings are concerned, he is both; monotheism and polytheism are equally true."

Declaring himself a skeptic and agnostic, Huxley played with this idea for half a dozen pages and finally wound up in favor of polytheism. "If men are ever to rise again from the depths into which they are now descending, it will be only with the aid of a new religion of Life. And since life is diverse, the new religion will have to have many gods."

Completely Around

All of this was written a long time ago—the issue of Harper's was dated September, 1929 — and would hardly be worth mentioning except for the fact that the author of the article was Aldous Huxley. And Aldous Huxley — as of 1961 — is one of the world's outstanding writers on religion and the spiritual life.

At some time between 1929 and 1961, this arch-skeptic and proudly irreligious man turned around 180 degrees and became the chief Western exponent of Oriental mysticism and metaphysical speculation. His "Perennial Philosophy" is probably the most comprehensive anthology of spiritual writings ever compiled.

If you asked Aldous Huxley today about that article of his he wrote in 1929, he'd laugh and call it utter nonsense from A to Z.

It's remarkable how people change their minds.

Polio Can Cause Spine Complaint

By JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: We just found out our 13-year-old niece has scoliosis. Her doctor says she has had it for at least three years. He took X-rays and says she may need her spine fused.

"Could you explain about this disease and what they do for it?—Mrs. H.G."

Scoliosis is a curvature of the spine to one side or the other in varying degrees. Some cases are best handled by conservative treatment—that is, no drastic measures. Other times the curvative is such that surgery is necessary.

There are various causes of this condition, polio being a frequent one—that is, in comparison to the number of cases that occur.

It isn't too easy to detect an early case. However, it has been noted that the curvative tends to get worse due to unequal muscle growth and muscle pull.

MILD CASE

Even in cases where there is no record of polio, it is thought that a very mild case of polio probably occurred without being identified.

What to do when a case becomes severe?

That is where fusion comes in.

"Fusion" is an operation in which a piece of bone is grafted to the spine at some point to hold adjacent vertebrae rigid. This prevents further displacement, or curvature, of the spine at that point. I am sure that in a case of this sort, it would not have been suggested unless the curvative was fairly severe.

* * *

"Dear Dr. Molner: I am a 13-year-old girl and I have a problem. I have moles all over my back and a few on my arms. Once I was so ashamed that I wore long-sleeve blouses to cover them up.

"What could I do to make them go away? I don't think they look very nice when I wear a bathing suit. Thank you.—S.C."

If you have six or eight little moles, and just about everybody has at least a couple or several, then my solemn answer is that you are suffering from a very common ailment of girls of your age known as taking everything too seriously.

But if, on the other hand, you really have such a flock of moles, I guess, if I were you, I'd ask my mother if maybe we couldn't go to a skin specialist and see if we can't arrange to have some of them taken off.

They say it is the ghost of a woman who killed herself in one of the apartments several years ago.

Reginald King, who lives in the block, said: "The other night the baby, asleep in its crib, suddenly started laughing."

In the morning his little girl asked if the strange woman would be coming back. She had seen her tickling the baby.

Nina on the Job As Miss Canada

HAMILTON (CP) — Nineteen-year-old Nina Holden of Victoria arrived last night by plane to take up the title of Miss Canada 1962 and will begin her duties with an appearance in the Toronto suburb of Weston.

Connie Gail Feller, 20, Ottawa University student, was disqualified Saturday for "parental interference" and failure to live up to her contract.

DATE WITH EATON'S

Mrs. Edna Weaver, a pageant official, said Miss Feller had failed to appear at a scheduled appointment with T. Eaton Co. Sept. 1 and had "jeopardized our friendship" with Eaton's.

Another reason given for Miss Feller's disqualification was that she wanted to observe the Jewish high holidays despite her commitments.

But Mrs. Weaver said pageant officials had "very willingly cancelled" any commitment which interfered with Miss Feller's observance of Jewish holidays.

Miss Feller's father said he didn't have "the foggiest idea what it's all about," but denied any interference and said his daughter had kept all her commitments.

Old Gun Injures Youth

An Oak Bay youth had a narrow escape Sunday when a .22 bullet pierced his upper right arm in an accidental shooting. He now is recovering in Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Jan White, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. White, 1066 Oliver, was injured about 2.30 p.m. at the home of a friend, Garth Woods, 16, of 910 Linkleas.

The two boys, according to police reports, had a .22 rifle which lacked a rear sight and were trying to put one in place when the accident occurred.

"It could have been so much worse," Mrs. White said yesterday. "A few moments before, Jan had been looking down the barrel and thought it was plugged with dirt.

"When the gun went off the two were trying to line up a spot on the barrel to drill a hole for the rear sight."

Police said the White boy was holding the rifle with its barrel against his arm when somehow it was fired. The bullet went through the arm without touching the bone.

"You always think of these things happening to someone else," Mrs. White said. "We're so thankful it was no worse."

Car Encircles Pole Three Die Instantly

100 MILE HOUSE, B.C. (CP)—Three persons died when a car wrapped itself around a power pole 1½ miles north of this Cariboo community Sunday.

Three passengers were killed outright. The driver and a male passenger are in critical condition in Williams Lake hospital and a teen-age girl is in fair condition with head injuries in Ashcroft hospital.

Dead are Ardith Lindsay, 21, of Lac La Hache; Juanita Capnerhurst, 16, Williams Lake, and Kenneth Clark, 28, of Fredericton, N.B.

Police said the car careened out of control on a gradual curve, skidded across Highway 97, jumped a ditch and smashed into the pole bringing down a 60,000-volt line. Electrical service here was out more than four hours.

The force of the crash threw one of the victims 32 feet. Three others were also thrown out and two were trapped in the car for several hours.

Adults 'Line Up' for School

Total Near Record

Adult education classes offered by Greater Victoria school board appear to be heading for an enrolment that will come close to last year's record 5,400, officials said yesterday.

A board spokesman said enrolment for all courses stands at 3,138, which matches the total at this time last year. Non-credit courses begin next week.

Alan Batey, principal of adult classes, said enrolment for academic program of high school graduation courses which began a week ago promises to top 300—an expected increase of nearly 200.

About one-third of the enrolment of 450 for high school credit courses is for the general program in Grades 10, 11 and 12 which was introduced this fall.

Officials said they were happy with the response to the new program.

Non-credit evening courses offered this term number 250 and some, notably in dressmaking and tailoring, are so popular arrangements are being made to provide morning and afternoon classes if there is sufficient demand.

A spokesman said one afternoon course in dressmaking is already scheduled but there are still some vacancies.

Among new courses for which enrolment is slow are those in secretarial practice, personal financial planning and an introduction to commercial law as it applies to businessmen.

Enrolments are still coming in slowly for the lecture series "Atomic energy—its problems and promises" which has a distinguished panel of speakers in related fields. The course of lectures will be strictly non-technical.

'Tickling Ghost' Scares Families in Apartment

NOTTINGHAM (AP)—Frightened families told of seeing the ghost of a woman in black pigtails.

A local vicar, Rev. George Muxlow, has been called in to comfort women who claim to have seen the ghost move through their homes in an apartment block here.

The women say the ghost reaches out its arms appealingly to people it meets, moves articles from tables and cupboards and shows itself only to women and children.

They say it is the ghost of a woman who killed herself in one of the apartments several years ago.

Reginald King, who lives in the block, said: "The other night the baby, asleep in its crib, suddenly started laughing."

In the morning his little girl asked if the strange woman would be coming back. She had seen her tickling the baby.

Old Gun Injures Youth

An Oak Bay youth had a narrow escape Sunday when a .22 bullet pierced his upper right arm in an accidental shooting. He now is recovering in Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Jan White, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. White, 1066 Oliver, was injured about 2.30 p.m. at the home of a friend, Garth Woods, 16, of 910 Linkleas.

The two boys, according to police reports, had a .22 rifle which lacked a rear sight and were trying to put one in place when the accident occurred.

"It could have been so much worse," Mrs. White said yesterday. "A few moments before, Jan had been looking down the barrel and thought it was plugged with dirt.

"When the gun went off the two were trying to line up a spot on the barrel to drill a hole for the rear sight."

Police said the White boy was holding the rifle with its barrel against his arm when somehow it was fired. The bullet went through the arm without touching the bone.

"You always think of these things happening to someone else," Mrs. White said. "We're so thankful it was no worse."

Car Encircles Pole Three Die Instantly

100 MILE HOUSE, B.C. (CP)—Three persons died when a car wrapped itself around a power pole 1½ miles north of this Cariboo community Sunday.

Three passengers were killed outright. The driver and a male passenger are in critical condition in Williams Lake hospital and a teen-age girl is in fair condition with head injuries in Ashcroft hospital.

Dead are Ardith Lindsay, 21, of Lac La Hache; Juanita Capnerhurst, 16, Williams Lake, and Kenneth Clark, 28, of Fredericton, N.B.

Police said the car careened out of control on a gradual curve, skidded across Highway 97, jumped a ditch and smashed into the pole bringing down a 60,000-volt line. Electrical service here was out more than four hours.

The force of the crash threw one of the victims 32 feet. Three others were also thrown out and two were trapped in the car for several hours.

Polio Can Cause Spine Complaint

By JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: We just found out our 12-year-old niece has scoliosis. Her doctor says she has had it for at least three years. He took X-rays and says she may need her spine fused.

"Could you explain about this disease and what they do for it?—Mrs. H.G."

Scoliosis is a curvature of the spine to one side or the other in varying degrees. Some cases are best handled by conservative treatment—that is, no drastic measures. Other times the curvative is such that surgery is necessary.

There are various causes of this condition, polio being a frequent one—that is, in comparison to the number of cases that occur.

It isn't too easy to detect an early case. However, it has been noted that the curvative tends to get worse due to unequal muscle growth and muscle pull.

MILD CASE

Even in cases where there is no record of polio, it is thought that a very mild case of polio probably occurred without being identified.

What to do when a case becomes severe?

That is where fusion comes in.

"Fusion" is an operation in which a piece of bone is grafted to the spine at some point, to hold adjacent vertebrae rigid. This prevents further displacement, or curvature, of the spine at that point. I am sure that in a case of this sort it would not have been suggested unless the curvative was fairly severe.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I am a 13-year-old girl and I have a problem. I have moles all over my back and a few on my arms. Once I was so ashamed that I wore long-sleeve blouses to cover them up.

"What could I do to make them go away? I don't think they look very nice when I wear a bathing suit. Thank you.—S.C."

If you have six or eight little moles, and just about everybody has at least a couple or several, then my solemn answer is that you are suffering from a very common ailment of girls of your age known as taking everything too seriously.

But if, on the other hand, you really have such a flock of moles, I guess, if I were you, I'd ask my mother if maybe we couldn't go to a skin specialist and see if we can't arrange to have some of them taken off.

Nina on the Job As Miss Canada

HAMILTON (CP) — Nineteen-year-old Nina Holden of Victoria arrived last night by plane to take up the title of Miss Canada 1962 and will begin her duties with an appearance in the Toronto suburb of Weston.

Connie-Gail Feller, 20, Ottawa University student was disqualified Saturday for "parental interference" and failure to live up to her contract.

DATE WITH EATON'S

Mrs. Edna Weaver, a pageant official, said Miss Feller had failed to appear at a scheduled appointment with T. Eaton Co. Sept. 1 and had "jeopardized our friendship" with Eaton's.

Another reason given for Miss Feller's disqualification was that she wanted to observe the Jewish high holidays despite her commitments.

But Mrs. Weaver said pageant officials had "very willingly cancelled" any commitment which interfered with Miss Feller's observance of Jewish holidays.

Miss Feller's father said he didn't have "the foggiest idea what it's all about," but denied any interference and said his daughter had kept all her commitments.

Adults 'Line Up' for School

Adult education classes offered by Greater Victoria school board appear to be heading for an enrolment that will come close to last year's record 5,100, officials said yesterday.

A board spokesman said enrolment for all courses stands at 3,138, which matches the total at this time last year. Non-credit courses begin next week.

Alan Batey, principal of adult classes, said enrolment for academic program of high school graduation courses which began a week ago promises to top 300—an expected increase of nearly 200.

About one-third of the enrolment of 450 for high school credit courses is for the general program in Grades 10, 11 and 12 which was introduced this fall.

Officials said they were happy with the response to the new program.

Non-credit evening courses offered this term number 250 and some, notably in dressmaking and tailoring, are so popular arrangements are being made to provide morning and afternoon classes if there is sufficient demand.

A spokesman said one afternoon course in dressmaking is already scheduled but there are still some vacancies.

Among new courses for which enrolment is slow are those in secretarial practice, personal financial planning and an introduction to commercial law as it applies to businessmen.

Enrolments are still coming in slowly for the lecture series "Atomic energy—its problems and promises" which has a distinguished panel of speakers in related fields. The course of lectures will be strictly non-technical.

Wine—the Answer to Alcoholism

BORDEAUX, France (UPI) — A U.S. scientist claimed Monday that wine is a major pharmaceutical agent and may be "the most effective preventative of alcoholism known to medicine."

Prof. Milton Silverman, medical research director for the wine advisory board of the California agriculture department, also told the international congress for the scientific study of wine and grapes that:

● Scientific studies have demonstrated clearly that wine, even in small quantities, "acts as a true tranquilizer."

● Alcoholism is reduced if parents drink moderately, adult intoxication is condemned in the family, children are introduced to alcohol relatively early in their childhood and alcoholic beverages are thought of as food with no one becoming particularly excited about their use.

● Alcoholism is encouraged by undue emphasis either for or against, of any alcoholic beverage and by encouraging youths to drink in large quantity to prove virility.

● Research indicates wine lowers cholesterol levels in experimental animals.

● Consumption of wine is lower in gout patients than in non-gout sufferers.

● Wine may be helpful in the treatment of patients with cirrhosis of the liver.

● Dry white wines can be used safely and helpfully in the long term treatment of for up to 90 per cent of patients suffering from certain uncomplicated diabetes and provide "remarkable relief" digestion difficulties.

Whites Flee Katanga Amid Invasion Fears

BANCROFT, Northern Rhodesia (UPI)—A trainload of white refugees fled Elisabethville Monday amid rumors central Congolese government forces soon may invade Katanga.

The Rhodesian government's refugee chief, Cyril Hone, said 200 Europeans were aboard the train which arrives today.

In Leopoldville, arrival of army officers from the leftist stronghold of Stanleyville added to the invasion fears.

LONDON—The British government has consistently supported the UN policy in the Congo, according to a foreign office spokesman.

Concrete evidence of this support is shown by the substantial assistance, both financial and in kind, provided for the operation of UN forces in the Congo, he said.

The government throughout the operations had supported UN efforts to establish a united Congolese state, in which Katanga should be incorporated so as to play its full part.

To be lasting, this unity must be brought about by peaceful constitutional methods and not by intimidation or violence, he said. Internal difficulties must be settled peacefully by the Congolese themselves.

calls for disarmament in three stages.

Stage 1 envisaged:

● Establishment of an international disarmament organization (IDO).

● Reduction of military manpower levels to 2,100,000 each "for the U.S. and the U.S.S.R. and to appropriate levels for all other military significant states."

● Reduction of "armaments of prescribed types" by equitable and balanced steps.

● Agreement by all countries on a treaty banning nuclear weapons tests.

● prohibition of launching into space of vehicles capable of mass destruction.

● Creation of a UN peace force.

Stage II:

● Enlargement of powers and responsibilities of the IDO.

● Further reduction of all arms and manpower in "equitable and balanced steps."

Stage III:

● Progressive controlled disarmament and continuously developing principles and procedures of international law would proceed to a point where no state would have the military power to challenge the progressively strengthened UN peace force.

U.S. Will Use Veto In UN Showdown

NEW YORK (UPI)—United Nations ambassador Adlai Stevenson was quoted Monday as saying the United States would not want to give up its veto in the security council and might eventually have to use it. "If it came to a showdown, we'd be loathe to give up the veto in the security council, even though we have not used it . . ."

Three-Driver Troika?

By JOSEPH MacSWEEN
Canadian Press

President Kennedy scored a provocative point in his first United Nations speech by reminding the Soviet Union that even a "troika" of three horses has but one driver.

It was the sort of sally that might raise a smile from Soviet Premier Khrushchev, whose fondness for the apt remark or proverb became well known in his visits to the UN.

Khrushchev's attendance at the last UN General Assembly was as head of his delegation and he was not accorded the head-of-state formalities given to Kennedy Monday.

Referring to the wall erected by the East Germans to check the flow of refugees from East Berlin to the West, Kennedy said:

"Peaceful circulation has been interrupted by barbed wire and concrete blocks.

"One recalls the order of the czar in Pushkin's Boris Godunov: 'Take steps at this very hour that our frontiers be fenced by barriers . . . that not a single soul pass o'er the border, that not a hare be able to run or the crow to fly'."

UN Speech Called 'Real Voice of U.S.'

CALGARY (CP) — Liberal leader Lester Pearson said yesterday President Kennedy's address to the United Nations was the "real voice of the United States speaking."

Mr. Pearson told a press conference "other voices" from the U.S. have recently aroused criticism and concern around the world.

He said Kennedy had effectively dealt with the Russian "troika" scheme for the UN, "put it right up" to Russia with a detailed, well-balanced schedule of disarmament, and moved closer than ever to the necessity of an international police force.

In Regina Premier T. C. Douglas of Saskatchewan said Kennedy's speech contained many excellent proposals.

Mr. Douglas, national leader of the New Democratic Party, said, "the appeal to all nations to make part of their armed forces available for United Nations police work is an admirable first step in establishing the rule of law in the world."

U.K. Mayor Calls 'Little Summit'

Big Grain Crop Hoped by Reds

MOSCOW (AP) — It looks like a bumper grain crop for the Soviet Union this year, perhaps the best in Soviet history.

No official figures are likely before December. But Agricultural experts think the production of corn, wheat, rye and others may weigh in at 145,008,000 tons.

Dr. Nkrumah's Policies

THE POLICIES and activities of President Nkrumah of Ghana are due for a close and immediate re-examination by the Western powers.

Long the darling of strong groups of policy-makers in Washington and Whitehall, the former looking upon him as sort of latter-day combination of Washington and Lincoln, leading his enslaved people to a free and democratic world, the latter as a living justification of the British colonial administrative system, Dr. Nkrumah can seemingly do nothing to destroy the image they have so conveniently, and mistakenly created of him.

Yet for more than a year he has hurled an almost continual stream of abuse at the West, particularly the United States, Britain and other Commonwealth countries, while at the same time paying constant tribute to the Communist bloc and making endless pilgrimages to the Kremlin.

In more specific detail he has delivered a series of speeches accusing President Kennedy of causing the present world tension; purchased vast shipments of arms from Communist nations, though his own army is already fully equipped; signed cultural, technical and financial assistance treaties with the Soviet Union; dismissed his British military advisers, and deliberately insulted all Commonwealth ministers at the recent Accra meeting.

Since he has been in office he has either imprisoned or expelled from the country all those in political opposition to his one-man party, passed laws enabling him and his followers to hurl into jail whomsoever they please without charges or hearing of any kind, and taken over the press.

Latest of his attacks on the West was his scurrilous and unfounded accusation that Britain and Rhodesia were directly responsible for the late Dag Hammarskjold's death through either the sabotaging or shooting down of the UN aircraft carrying him over Northern Rhodesia.

This serious and dangerous charge filled the pages of his government controlled newspapers which were doubtless circulated throughout Ghana and its neighboring territories. It is unlikely that the findings of the UN crash experts will even be reported, and it would matter little if they were, for the damage has already been done.

In spite of this—which is only a small part of the program Dr. Nkrumah is following—the West still holds out the hand of friendship. Britain continues to pour money into Ghana for the development of its resources, the United States goes on supplying teachers and schools, and pays for vast technical training schemes, and even Canada sends over her officers to train Dr. Nkrumah's private army.

Not only should the Western nations call a halt to all future aid to Ghana but they should keep a watchful eye on Dr. Nkrumah—an eye more wary than sympathetic.

Flattering Himself

IT WOULD take the proverbial Philadelphia lawyer to untangle the polemics of the Columbia River power scheme; so many cross-purposes, so many new angles, so much controversy since the Canadian-United States treaty was signed.

The afterthoughts have been legion.

One suspects that if both provincial and federal governments were of the same political stripe, or if there were no Peace River development concurrently in the offing, all would be well with the Columbia project.

Premier Bennett of course can find a new polemic every time he speaks on the subject; a shortage of ideas is never his demerit even if often enough these seem confusing and contradictory. His latest is intriguing. It is that he will make B.C.'s power policies a major issue in the next federal election.

One likes to think that B.C. is the burgeoning province of the whole country, but citizens of other provinces naturally have other ideas. Quite frankly, most of them probably couldn't care less about B.C. and its hydro programs; they have their own domestic worries.

It is not likely that British Columbians would be excited about some controversy between Ottawa and Ontario, for example, or between Ottawa and New Brunswick. Mr. Bennett flatters both himself and the province over which he presides if he imagines that his government's troubles will influence Canadians in general against the Diefenbaker government.

Mr. Bennett may have in mind only the B.C. seats at stake in the federal parliament, but these alone would not shake the present Ottawa administration nor is it certain that all British Columbians are with him in his arguments over the Columbia. Many of them may conclude he is bent on demoting it to play second fiddle to his favorite prize development, the Peace.

Without prejudice to Premier Bennett, also, or his devotion to the province he governs, the personal odds would be against him were the Columbia scheme to become a federal election issue of importance. Assuredly at least on a national scale. He looms large on the B.C. scene but to other Canadians he is but one of ten provincial premiers. For obvious reasons none of them have the national stature of federal ministers who are known from coast to coast.

National and provincial elections are very different things.

Pretty Shabby

HOW DOES Victoria look to a visitor?

Not entirely as beautiful as we would like to think, judging from an article by Mr. J. M. McClelland in the Longview (Washington) Daily News; an informative, straightforward piece that bespeaks open-eyed observation.

The downtown section of Victoria, Mr. McClellanud says, "all in all is pretty shabby, one might say, and is probably maintained that way in order to give it the atmosphere of the Hay Market or Strand in good old London town. . . ."

That impression probably has been taken away by many thousands of tourists other than Mr. McClelland this summer. Next year, Victoria expects to have all the visitors it can accommodate, as a result of Seattle's fair and its own centenary.

Will they go away thinking of downtown Victoria as pretty shabby, and recalling it that way to their friends? Creation of an advisory bureau to encourage repainting of downtown buildings in an integrated, tasteful system has been suggested as one part of the centennial program, and the business community could well hasten to give this idea its fullest support.

SITTING DUCK

Ottawa Report

Different Approach in Politics

By ARTHUR BLAKELY

WITH the next general election not too far away, each and every political party takes an optimistic view of its prospects.

The Conservatives, the very picture of confidence, admit that they'll likely lose some of the 200-plus seats which they now hold in the House of Commons. And since their 1958 election sweep was the most one-sided in Canadian history, they could scarcely concede less. But apart from this, they wouldn't give their opponents the time of day. Of their ability to win the election, and win it handsomely, they will admit to not the tiniest fragment of doubt.

Their arch-rivals, the Liberals, have been proclaiming for many months and with manifest enthusiasm the tidings that they're on the march to victory. Their doubts, where the Liberals are prepared to admit that they exist at all, concern the margin by which they'll win.

New Democratic Party leader T. C. Douglas, who doubles as CCF premier of Saskatchewan, says that the public is rallying behind his party in a way that exceeds his "wildest dreams." He hasn't yet admitted that the national election is in the bag for the NDP. But some of his lieutenants have.

Even the Socreds, who were shut out entirely in the 1958 general election, claim they're going to be a power to be reckoned with after the next one.

* * *

These public professions of confidence are in the great tradition of Canadian politics.

A few years ago, when the Conservatives had been beaten so often and so badly in Saskatchewan that serious doubts prevailed concerning the continued existence of the party in that province on however limited a scale (the doubts existed, it should be added, even at the PC national headquarters), Agriculture Minister Alvin Hamilton, then a party leader, was asked during a radio press conference how he thought his party might fare. The interviewing experts were braced for assertion of reasons for a possible improvement in the PC fortunes.

Mr. Hamilton took the question in mid-stride.

"We'll win it!" he said, blandly, throwing the program into complete chaos as the staggered interviewers groped desperately and unsuccessfully for a question worthy of the answer.

* * *

It is a curious fact, but a fact nonetheless, that tradition and precedent have taken a course sharply different from those applicable to other great Canadian sports like hockey, football and baseball.

The strategists who mastermind the activities of teams engaging in these cultural activities, we are assured by chroniclers who keep the general public informed of developments in the field, take a different tack.

Team coaches and managers operate in and from an atmosphere of despair, desperation and despondency. They compete vigorously in the disclosure of hopes deferred or dashed, and expectations that were, alas, in vain. They are inconsolable when they contemplate the wreckage into which their teams have degenerated. They have been known to weep when they consider the formidable squads with which their own battered misfits will soon be locked in combat.

They specialize heavily in the gedgraphy of the sloughs of despond. The best of them are geniuses in detection and recognition of the unpromising, the unpropitious, the ill-omened, the ominous.

And for the tacticians and strategists operating in these other fields of endeavor, this system seems to work fairly well. If disaster overtakes a team, as disasters must, the mastermind immediately concerned is in a position to assert without fear of contradiction all was as he had feared and forecast.

Were political leaders to adopt the device, we might now be getting statements of quite a different sort from the various national headquarters.

* * *

Prime Minister Diefenbaker: Don't see how we can possibly make it. The boys are still reading their 1957-58 press clippings. Over and above that Fleming was hurt pretty badly in his collision with Coyne and, for all we know, may be out for the season. Some of our fellas aren't as young as they were and it's tough finding replacements. I'm waiting for any last-minute cuts from other outfits. But I'm not too hopeful. Defensively, we're in a fair spot. But do you think we can put any kind of offence together? It hurts me just to think of it. I'm scared to death of the Grits, no matter what people say. And that NDP outfit looks as if it might be a real sleeper.

National Liberal Leader Lester Pearson: Our real weakness is in manpower. We just don't have the Canadian talent to do the trick. And don't tell me to get next to some eligible imports. Just try and find them. It's the Tories' manpower that keeps them on top. Just imagine. More than 200 boys in camp hungry for jobs. And what do we have? Don't have the exact figures with me but it's about a quarter of that. Stands to reason that it's easier to pick talent out of 200 candidates than it is out of 50. And as if I didn't have plenty to worry me there, I've got this NDP bunch breathing down the back of my neck. Just imagine! All new plays and mostly new players! How do you defence against that, I ask you.

NDP Leader T. C. Douglas: We're new in the league and we'll be just feeling our way for quite a while yet. Of course we might get lucky and start clicking. But you can't count on that. We've heard a lot about just how hefty the boys in this league are. And from what I've seen, we have plenty to worry about. The only real change I have in mind—and it's only a possibility at this stage, mind you—is to switch Argue from quarter to corner linebacker. He may not like it, having worked for years on offence. But I think he's got the ability to do the job for us with our defensive unit. We're thin in talent, no question about it. I don't see any sign of improvement. Not this year. Now next year, things may be different. We've just got to get out and get boys to turn out with us. But we're strictly a medium-term proposition.

Social Credit Leader Robert Thompson: As you know, we're not really in the league yet. We opted out in '58 when we lost every single game. It may well be too early for us to try to get back in. I mean I don't think we have the overall strength to match those of the other outfits. Our boys come, mostly, from B.C. and Alberta. And you know what that means. We've got some interesting new theories about the game, though, that we think our fans will like. And while the opposition is mighty tough, we may give it a whirl, just for laughs.

The Packsack

Quick Switch

By GREGORY CLARK

WHILE sitting in the office of one of my cronies who is an advertising executive of high rank, I witnessed an interesting proredure.

His secretary came in the room shutting the door behind her.

"It's Mr. Whiffle," she said.

"Ah!" exclaimed my friend. "Switch 'em, quick!"

The secretary hurried over to the wall and removed a framed photograph. She carried it over to an ornamental bookcase, the bottom drawer of which appeared to be stacked with framed pictures. Hastily sorting through them, she fished one out, and replaced in the drawer the one she had taken down. Then she hung the new picture on the wall.

"Show him in," directed my friend.

Mr. J. T. Whiffle, of the Whiffle Pickle Corporation, one of my friend's large accounts, what they call in the advertising business a six-figger account, came in, a presidential personality. I was introduced and took my departure, before doing which I took note that the picture newly hung on the wall was one of Mr. Whiffle, taking his place on the walls with the Queen, Mr. Diefenbaker and Sir Winston Churchill.

Menderes Accelerated It

The Westernizing of Turkey

By an OFNS Correspondent

THE people who for six centuries were the sword-bearers of an alien faith, and the greatest standing menace to Christian Europe, have today become the trusted outpost of Western civilization against a new menace. But how well do we know the Turk, who for 600 years was an enemy, and has been an ally for only 12?

An extraordinary reversal of historical alliances has been involved in Turkey's membership of NATO and the Council of Europe. We now call the Turk a "linchpin of the Western alliance" and the "bastion of the Middle East against Communism," but the roots of prejudice lie deep in time.

Martin Luther prayed: "May God protect us from the World, the Flesh, the Turk and the Devil"; Shakespeare wrote of the "unspeakable Turk"; and even in our time Western nannies scolded a naughty child as being "a little Turk."

Six centuries cannot be annihilated in a decade, on one side or the other. The Turk cannot easily forget how a British prime minister, Mr. Lloyd George, supported a Greek army which pillaged and occupied Turkey after the First World War. And there are still echoes of the anti-Westernism which in 1922, in the Turkish War of Independence, caused the leader, Mustafa Kemal Ataturk, to cooperate with Bolshevik Lenin in a joint offensive against the West.

* * *

There are strong currents of anti-Americanism, especially among youth — as has been manifest in many other countries receiving large sums of American aid. Meanwhile, the Russians are permanently on the watch, because the Communists hope that if Turkey and the West fall out, Turkey will again become friends with Russia.

But Turkey, for a generation now, has been aimed towards the West. Kemal Ataturk himself was the great impulse in this movement.

Ataturk not merely adopted Western methods and techniques, he conceived his Turkey as part of Europe, as joined permanently to Western civilization.

Ataturk, in his reforms which form the basis of the whole state, realized that the great barrier between Turkey and Europe was the Islamic religion. Ataturk therefore did what no other Muslim country has done: he secularized the state. Turkey, from being an Islamic empire became, almost overnight, a lay republic.

Ataturk's aim was to produce a new generation of Turks who, while remaining true to the essential traditions of Turkey, would mingle freely with Western Europeans without the barrier of the difference in religion. And the modern agnostic young Turk, who knows little or nothing of the Arabic and Persian background in which his grandparents, and even his parents, were immersed, whose intellectual and spiritual nourishment is Western art, philosophy and literature, is indistinguishable from a modern agnostic young European.

Turks are roughly the same build as Westerners, their skin is the same color, their hair and the shape of their eyes does not differ. They wear the same clothes. Yet it has been said of the modern Turk that underneath this Western exterior the Oriental is not hard to find. This is much less true than it may have been 40 years ago.

* * *

Two young Turkish students called on me the other day. Our conversation roamed over many subjects. They had never been abroad, yet there was no inferiority complex vis-a-vis the West, or what one may call the "unexpected" quality of the Oriental soul.

The inferiority complex of newly independent colonial people, which is always one of the most difficult things to break down, does not exist in Turkey, for the simple reason that the Turks have never been colonized or conquered. The "unexpected" quality of the Oriental soul is more difficult to explain.

During the Second World War British flying instructors were teaching Turkish pilots to fly modern fighters. One day the chief of the British training team complained to the station commander that the Turkish pilots — though very gifted airmen — were indulging too much when off duty at the weekends, and the quality of their flying suffered from this on Mondays. Could he do something about it?

"Of course," said the Turkish station commander. "I shall issue an order immediately."

The following day an instruction was sent to all units: "In future there will be no flying on Mondays."

The non-Western mind can, by its own logic, arrive at conclusions which the Western mind does not expect. By and large, the Oriental mentality means a different sort of reasoning, a certain lack of frankness and directness, an unwillingness to be too open and blunt, a respect for authority. An interesting example of this can be seen in the contrast in Turkey today between the older school of Turkish journalists and the younger writers.

* * *

In the days of Mr. Adnan Menderes, most of the press was in opposition to his government. There was a general outcry because Menderes tried to limit press freedom by laws.

Then a curious thing happened. Mr. Menderes went to Istanbul and invited the editors of all the main newspapers to lunch. He chided them for their attacks on the government. What sort of pressure he brought to bear on them is uncertain, but the result was the notorious "Bargain." In this "Bargain," the big Istanbul editors agreed to devote 60 per cent of their space to things favorable to the government, and 40 per cent to things which favored the opposition.

But the most interesting aspect of this highly Oriental affair was the universal outcry against it of the younger journalists, and youth generally.

They would have none of it. It was young Turkey, particularly the students, who joined up with the younger army officers to overthrow the Menderes government. In their eyes it was going back to the methods of the sultans and away from Ataturk's vision of Turkey as a Western nation.

Most of the youth of the nation, while being convinced that Ataturk's idea was right, now go beyond Ataturk. They want a type of political democracy which is genuinely Western.

Many of the young now also have socialist ideas — something which has hitherto been squashed in Turkey under pain of severe penalties. The young are acutely aware of their country's poverty (average income per head still around £50 per annum), and its ignorance (illiteracy rate still stands at 65 per cent). They want land reform, the right to strike, habeas corpus, more political and economic freedom, and more social justice too, if the two things can be combined.

This is the attitude of mind in which young Turkey contemplates the campaign leading to the general elections next month and the consequent restoration of civilian government.

The Menderes government was accused of taking Turkey back to Asia and the East. It had, in fact, the reverse effect on the educated youth of the nation, because opposition among the young quickened the westernizing process.

Little Betty, a dime clutched in her hand, was skipping her way to the drug store to buy an ice-cream cone. On the way she met her minister, who asked where she was going. After being told, he suggested that Betty give her dime to the missions, instead.

"I thought about that," Betty said, "but I decided to buy the ice-cream cone and let the druggist give the dime to missions."

Spending Climbs

Space Time

By FRANK MACOMBER
Copley News Service

WHAT'S the good of looking at the other side of the moon?

What is the taxpayer getting out of the U.S. space program, and how can he expect to benefit from it in the future?

A Congressional committee has concerned itself with these and other questions growing out of the United States' race to beat Russia to the punch in space. A recently published report of the House Committee on Science and Astronautics attempts to deal with the space issue in detail.

The report of the committee says the American taxpayer has a right to know "why so many of his dollars are going into the effort to explore space." It is designed, too, the committee says, "to indicate what the taxpayer can expect in return which is of value to him."

* * *

Since October, 1958, when the United States jumped into the space race in earnest, space spending has climbed to a point where it is exceeded only by the defence, veterans administration and social security budgets, the report says.

"Already we are spending more money on space in a single year than Lincoln could muster to fight most of the Civil War," the report points out. "Within two or three years we expect to spend more for space exploration than it cost to run the entire federal government 30 years ago.

"During the 1960s it is expected that the U.S. will spend anywhere from $40,000,000,000 to $70,000,000,000 on space exploration."

"In the Soviet Union, which counts itself as the world's prime investigator of space, there is likewise an element of citizenry which finds itself puzzled over the U.S.S.R.'s penchant for the interplanetary reaches.

"What do sputniks give to a person like me?" a Russian workman complained in a letter which Pravda published on its front page. 'So much money is spent on sputniks it makes people gasp. If there were no sputniks the government could cut the cost of cloth for an overcoat in half and put a few electric flatirons in the stores. Rockets, rockets, rockets. Who needs them now?"

"It goes without saying," the report noted, "that the workman was chastised severely by the Soviet newspaper, but his point was made."

* * *

After months of hearings on the U.S. space programs, the committee concluded that "there is no longer doubt that space exploration holds genuine significance for the security and well-being of the United States as a nation."

It explained that the space program benefits the country in three ways:

"One results from the uses which our armed forces can make of the knowledge gained from space exploration," the committee says.

"A second results from the influence and prestige which America can exert within the world community because of her prowess in space exploration.

"A third results from the possibility that space exploration, eventually, may prove so immense and important a challenge that it will channel the prime energies of powerful nations toward its own end and thus reduce the current emphasis on developing means of destruction.

"The first two values definitely exist. The third seems to be a reasonable hope."

The report quotes Mark Twain to make the point that the space age is here and "there is no point in trying to hold off the tempo of this oncoming age or, in any other way, to evade it."

Twain, the report recalls, "once listened to the complaints of an old riverboat pilot who was having trouble making the switch from sail to steam.

"The old pilot wanted no part of the new-fangled steam contraptions.

"Maybe so," replied Twain, 'but when it's steamboat time, you steam.'

"Today is space time and man is going to explore it."

Letters to the Editor

Provocative

The discussion on Civil Defence preparations gave pause for some provocative thoughts:

If digging holes to hide in when bombs fall inspires fear and pessimism, why did not the English break under the 1940 bombings?

We all agree that nuclear war would be madness, but do the Russians think so?

Would we prefer to perish in or survive a nuclear war? I should prefer to survive.

A thug is less likely to attack a man who is prepared to defend himself than one who is not.

Are we prepared to capitulate to the Communists without a struggle?

Dictatorship

Your columnist, Gregory Clark, is just 40 years late in discovering that the government of Russia is not a dictatorship of the proletariat but the dictatorship of an elite group self-elected. That was decided in March 1921, when the sailors and civilians of Kronstadt, having fought through the civil war for a dictatorship of the proletariat, rose and demanded that elections should be free and that the proletariat have some voice in the government.

The Communists replied that they would never surrender their power and forthwith assembled their cohorts of the Red Army, marched them across the ice and crushed the revolt, thus securing for all time a dictatorship of the Communist which in reality amounts to the dictatorship of one man, the secretary of the party.

Flower Shows

Now the flower shows are over for this year, I would like to suggest the judges get together to decide what is an annual, what are perennials. Also the catalogues do not define grasses ordinary or grasses cereals. On all these points the catalogues are very conflicting. I would recommend the Horticultural Show Handbook be obtained for judges to help them decide right from wrong, thus making the awards fairer to those who take the trouble to exhibit.

Soccer

After watching Victoria United get two draws, which might easily have been two wins with a little more punch in the forward line; I'm sure the Kickers could supply this—why shouldn't they? The other teams allowed some of their players to go to the United.

We need the best team we can get to hold our own against the Vancouver teams. The defence is good; it's forwards we need. Surely Kickers could spare two or three forwards and fill their places in the local league with some of their own club extras then they would be strong enough for a better balanced local league.

If they don't want to co-operate then here's one fan who won't go to see a Kickers' game and I am sure a lot of other fans feel the same way. The public should be considered and they want to see a good United team.

Premature

Peter Bruton's Notebook of Sept. 19 included an item about a "Slow Boat"—not to China, but to the Gulf Islands. It was a masterpiece of ridicule about a service of which he obviously knows very little. It was the paragraph dealing with the unfortunate business man who hadn't taken "into account those who run the service," that riled Gulf Islanders.

Granted, it was an annoying experience for travellers, but "those who run the service" had only been running it for two weeks—hardly time to revamp the whole operation, place a larger vessel on the run, and deftly handle an unprecedended number of cars and trucks due to the opening of the hunting season, plus the regulars.

The Toonerville Trolley, like the slow train through Arkansas, ran for years, according to song and story, and the service never improved. The Toll Authority has been running the Motor Princess for less than three weeks, but already it is designing a new, modern ferry, mapping our routes, studying weather and tides, examining wharves and slips, planning publicity, and developing good public relations with island organizations.

Mr. Bruton's sarcasm, aimed at a Crown corporation just getting the feel of a ferry service that drove the department of highways to distraction since 1954, when the old Cy Peck made her first scheduled call at Pender Island, is a little premature.

One Rule

All this stupid babble about underground shelters, nuclear war, and "what about our poor children" in a case of such, is utterly asinine. Have we, at this stage of the "game" lost the meaning and value of the word "adult"?

What about our children? Who put our young people in this mess? Who actually has our boys and girls really at heart today? How many of us "adults" have skinned our nose to make life worth living for these children of this greedy, selfish, and egotistical age? So why weep now when we have more or less moulded and warped a generation of money-mad, fear-mad, and sex-mad boys and girls.

If we had but one commandment, and that was "Thou shalt not be selfish"—it would, if abided by, take care of nuclear wars and everything pertaining to such.

Prayer Needed

Anent the editorial in your Sunday issue entitled "A Time for Strength" I would suggest as the most effective means to attain the successful termination of the so-called "cold war" with its every possibility of developing into a "hot war," that the free world "top brass" in particular, and the free world citizens in general, appeal to our God for the guidance and help so urgently needed at this time to attain that wishful end.

A day of prayer, alone, is not sufficient for this desperate purpose. We should have our worthy prime minister, and all provincial premiers make a public call to all citizens of this glorious land to go down on their knees, and pray to our God for help and guidance in this deplorable situation.

Lecouteur Accused

Canoeist on Looting Charges

STURGEON FALLS, Ont. (UPI)—Leopold Lecouteur, who recently completed a 70-day 800-mile canoe jaunt to Quebec City from Sturgeon Falls, appeared in court yesterday charged with looting summer homes.

He was picked up Saturday on a provincial police warrant, charged with breaking, entering and theft in connection with breaking into homes along his canoe route near Parry Sound and Georgian Bay.

Internationally known for his canoeing prowess, the lone voyageur from Sturgeon Falls completed two long trips in as many years. He travelled to New York City in 1960 and to Quebec City this year.

For his first venture, in 1960, he was financially backed by the Sturgeon Falls and District Chamber of Commerce and the Abitibi Power and Paper Company. He was met in Ottawa by Nipissing Member of Parliament J. R. Garland and other dignitaries.

When he passed through Montreal, he was heralded into the famous Beaver Club and upon his arrival in New York last year was acclaimed on television and by the press as one of the world's top canoeists.

'Cleo' Starts at Last And Liz Late Already

ROME (UPI)—A somewhat chubby Liz Taylor went before the cameras Monday to begin shooting "Cleopatra" one year and $3,000,000 after the film was supposed to start.

"It's D-Day," said Liz. We've been waiting for this so long we thought it would never come."

On hand were 10 Congressmen representing the U.S. at the Italian centennial celebration.

Producer Walter Wagner told them "Miss Taylor is unable to leave the set. We are already behind three hours in our shooting."

He didn't explain how they managed to get behind three hours when they had only been shooting for two.

Mungo May Carve in New York

Chief Mungo Martin may go to New York this winter to demonstrate his totem-carving art in Times Square.

The invitation came from the Century 21 World's Fair group in Seattle which wants him to carve a "symbolic" pole under the eyes of curious New Yorkers.

The pole, which would publicize the fair, would be transported to the fairgrounds on completion.

Walter Dodsworth, chairman of the tourist industry group of the Chamber of Commerce, said yesterday the project would also serve as a fine advertisement for Victoria and all B.C.

"We like to think that the world's fair people down in Seattle got the germ of this idea from us," said Mr. Dodsworth.

He said the chamber was anxious to have Chief Mungo Martin carve a totem during the run of the fair. But high cost of renting space on the fairgrounds caused the project to be dropped.

"Yeah, I'd like to go," the chief said last night. "Once I get down to New York, I may never come back."

Chief Mungo and his assistant Henry Hunt operate in Thunderbird Park under a $7,500 annual B.C. grant. Officials confirmed yesterday the grant is nearly all used up and won't last the fiscal year which ends in March.

When the money runs out, probably early in December, there will be no alternative but to lay off the carvers until the spring, unless other work is forthcoming.

Officials indicated the New York offer, if it covered the period from Jan. 1 until March, might be the answer.

Since Chief Mungo is 80, officials said he would have to take Mr. Hunt with him to work on the carving under his direction.

Seattle fair officials said they would meet all expenses.

Totem carving by Chief Mungo Martin, right, under curious eyes of New Yorkers in Times Square, is the latest publicity stunt dreamed up by Seattle Century 21 planners. how do you judge a man's worth?
By the amount of money he can earn — or by the measure of his service to society? If the latter, then B.C.'s dentists must stand in high regard. For B.C. is in urgent need of more dental care — and today there are far too few qualified men to meet this need.
Time, money and serious study are required to become a dentist. He must undertake at least six years of specialized university training to obtain his doctor's degree. He must also possess good judgment and a high degree of manual dexterity and digital skill. Above all, he must have a sincere interest in people and a desire to serve them.
Could you measure up to these standards? If so, write for a pamphlet called Dentistry As A Career. Dentistry will demand much from you, but it offers you greater opportunities to serve your fellow men than any other profession.

private information
(for ladies whose husbands travel a lot)
We know, from talking to hundreds of ladies just like you, that you are deeply concerned about how much the tension of modern business is straining your husband's nerves, his good humor — even his health. You're wondering if there isn't something you should do about it.
Well, here are some things about train travel we thought might be of help to you.
When your husband does his travelling with Canadian National, he rides the Way of the Worry-Free. The highway dangers — in fact, the tension, the fatigue, the anxieties of other forms of travel dissolve for him as he settles back in homey comfort in lounge or dining car — or when he snaps out the light in a sleep-inducing CN bed. He has time to think . . . about you and the kids . . . about his business problems — time to find himself.
When he travels with CN — he returns rested, relaxed, more the man he used to be.
Next time he travels — for everyone's pleasure — suggest the Way of the Worry-Free—Canadian National.

Bonner Meeting

Ask Reds for Peace Year Voice of Women Advised

A delegation of women was advised yesterday to send a mission to Moscow to press their campaign of a World Peace Year.

The suggestion was made by Attorney-General Bonner after a delegation interviewed he and Education Minister Peterson. The women were members of the "Voice of Women" formed after the collapse of the summit meeting of world leaders last year.

Mr. Peterson suggested an essay contest be held in B.C. schools on the subject of ways to achieve peace. He said his department would give consideration to such a project.

More than 50 women, some with babies in buggies, gathered outside the legislative buildings while a delegation of five, including Mrs. Brock Chisholm, interviewed the ministers.

In Ottawa 150 representatives of the "Voice of Women" descended on Parliament Hill to push their plan for a UN-sponsored peace year.

They got an unusually long hearing from Prime Minister Diefenbaker but no commitment that his government would place the proposal before the UN Assembly.

Gordon Will Stay

OTTAWA (CP) — Donald Gordon will be reappointed as head of the publicly owned CNR, a reliable informant close to the cabinet said Monday.

Announcement of his reappointment—a big question mark for 12 months—is expected to be made in the Commons by Transport Minister Balcer in the next 48 hours.

Fines, Driving Ban Soldier's Sentence

Julius Frank Pokorny, Work Point, pleaded guilty in Esquimalt police court yesterday to taking a car without the owner's consent and to driving without a licence.

Pokorny was fined $100 on the first charge, and prohibited from driving for six months, and $25 on the second charge.

Police said Pokorny and a juvenile took a car from an Esquimalt parking lot Saturday. They were caught by Saanich police after the car was damaged in an accident on Orillia Street.

Sharp Slump Continues At New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices dropped to their worst loss since April 24. Trading was fairly active.

Sharp losses by aluminum stocks gave initial downward momentum to the market. Labor negotiations with Ford whose stock touched one high after another last week, sent that stock down.

President Kennedy's speech to the United Nations and its stress on disarmament brought some uneasiness to the defence stocks.

Olin Mathieson, which announced aluminum price cuts, fell 3⅞. Reynolds Metals 3 and Alcoa 2⅞.

Dufault Climbs

TORONTO (CP)—Lake Dufault Mines, the Quebec mining company which has been holding down the spotlight since Wednesday, moved ahead again in another wild trading session.

At the close the stock had turned over 754,744 shares and advanced 92 cents to $8 a share after earlier going as high as $3.25.

On the industrial market there was a general decline with no one group showing any strength. Bank and paper stocks were the hardest hit.

Individual losses included aluminium off 1⅛.

Bathurst Pulp and Paper gained ¾.

With the exception of junior issues base metals had a rough day. In the senior list Ventures was down 1⅛. Noranda one point and Falconbridge ⅛. International Nickel registered a gain of ⅛.

MONTREAL (CP)—Papers, industrials and combined fell more than an index point.

Among the utilities, Power Corp. lost ⅛ at 57⅛. B.C. Phone added ¾ at 50. Calgary Power fell ⅛ at 26½ and B.C. Power at 33¾ slipped ⅛.

Among the industrials Crown Zellerbach A at 22½ and Inter-Provincial Pipelines at 74⅞ were up ⅛. Hudson Bay Co. was unchanged at 12⅛.

Among the base metals, Aluminium dropped 1⅛ at 28. International Nickel gained ⅛ at 84⅞ and Consolidated Smelters added ⅛ at 24⅞.

In west oils, Royalite lost ⅛ at 8½.

Coppers Mixed

VANCOUVER—Trading was moderately active in mines, but price changes were small and generally on the minus side.

Craigmont was $14½ and Granduc 2.95 to be easier among the copper leaders but there were minor gains in Bethlehem at 1.13 and in Cowichan at 39.

B.C. Forest moved up to $14 and Woodwards eased to $17⅞ in the industrial section.

Aluminium Shares Suffer Sharp Drop

BY HARRY YOUNG
Colonist Business Editor

Shares of Aluminium Ltd. dropped sharply yesterday on the news that a secondary offering of 90,000 shares would be made in New York at yesterday's closing price.

Later the U.S. underwriters stated that the offering at $27⅞ (U.S. funds) had been over subscribed.

The opening trade in Aluminium Ltd. on Toronto exchange was $29⅞ and the stock fell to $27⅞ before recovering to close at $28⅛.

The ownership of the shares being sold was not revealed, nor was there available any confirmation that the sale hinged on Aluminium Ltd's recent decision to cut the price of aluminum in the U.S. market.

However, three leading U.S. aluminum producers — Alcoa, Reynolds Metal and Olin Mathieson—each met the challenge of the big Canadian firm by lowering their domestic prices of aluminum by two cents to 24 cents a pound. Aluminium Ltd. had announced last week it would sell Canadian aluminum at the border, with import duty paid, at 23.8 cents a pound.

Aluminium Ltd. was able to make the cut painlessly because a drop in the exchange value of the Canadian dollar has made it possible for the company to sell its product more cheaply in U.S. dollars. The U.S. firms have no such advantage.

The four major companies which have been experimenting on the extraction of oil from the Athabaska tar sands are reported to have reached a stage when the process can be done on economic lines.

Steps are being taken to obtain permits for pipeline facilities to the huge deposits in at only 50 per cent capacity, the MacMurray area of northern Alberta.

While it is likely to be sometime before tar sands oil is ready for marketing, the news of this vast new source of oil in Canada when the

BRITAIN SUPPORTED

Support for Britain's negotiations with the European Common Market has been given by the Council of the Forest Industries of B.C.

J. R. Nicholson, president stated that the Common Market was the logical place for Britain to turn in her struggle for economic survival.

"We must be competitive and win our full share in the new European market," he said. "Our chances of doing so should be much better if Britain is a member."

He said Canadian opposition to the British plan was a "callous and short sighted policy" aimed to protect some Canadian industries at the expense of the country's exporters.

Storm Keeps Miners Far Down for Night

SUDBURY, Ont. (CP)—An electrical storm early Saturday knocked out hydro service in a mine shaft at nearby Creighton, stalling the elevator and forcing workers to stay in the shaft overnight.

"There was never any danger," a mine official said.

Divorce Law Coming

OTTAWA (UPI)—The federal government said yesterday it hoped to introduce legislation at the next session of parliament to deal with the controversial question of divorce bills from Quebec and Newfoundland.

A brief statement in the Commons by House leader Gordon Churchill to this effect cleared the way for the passage of some 350 divorce bills which had been piling up on the order paper for almost a year.

Veterans Affairs Minister Churchill said the problem was "under study" by the government and it "has hopes of presenting to this House at the next session some proposal in this regard."

The bills, handled by parliament because there are no divorce courts in the two provinces, were given second reading — approval in principle — and sent to the Commons miscellaneous bills committee for detailed study.

Frank Howard (CCF—Skeena), one of two CCF MPs who have blockaded the divorce bills by filibustering over the last two years, said he welcomed the government's assurance.

Howard and Arnold Peters (CCF—Timiskaming) have effectively blocked passage of the contentious bills to point up the need for eliminating alleged perjury and collusion in parliamentary divorce cases. They urged that parliament be rid of the responsibility.

Liberal spokesman J. W. Pickersgill also welcomed the move. He said the divorce petitioners should be given relief by parliament.

Police Take No Sides Mayor to Tell Labor

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mayor Tom Alsbury said Monday Vancouver police lean over backward not to take sides in labor disputes.

He said he does not think there is any validity in the B.C. Federation of Labor's charges of police interference in a dispute between the Retail Wholesale Union and Taylor, Pearson and Carson (B.C.) Ltd.

The mayor said he will invite the federation officials to present their charges to city council next week.

Federation secretary-treasurer E. P. O'Neal had said police and dogs "are being employed to harass trade unionists engaged in peaceful picketing in support of their just demands."

Royal Bank Employee Sought Again in Brazil

SANTOS, Brazil (AP) — Police sought court permission Monday to take Peter Smith Watson back into custody pending further check into charges he was allegedly involved in an embezzlement of more than $1,000,000 from a branch of the Royal Bank of Canada here.

Watson, 31, native of Brechin, Scotland, was detained by police last week after discovery of an alleged bank shortage, and later released.

Watson probably will be held without bail until police press a specific charge or let him go.

Police also are searching for Alejandro Mario Capurro, a depositor in the bank.

Jurors for Caldough Quizzed for Lawyer

VANCOUVER (CP) — A disclosure that one-third of a 108-man panel in a conspiracy-fraud trial involving $385,000 were queried on their religion, stock market investments and views on drinking was made in assize court Monday.

Victor Stephens, counsel for George Caldough, told the court the questions were asked on his (Stephen's) instruction and he saw nothing improper about them.

Caldough, 32, pleaded not guilty to charges of conspiracy, defrauding the public and circulating false statements that intended to induce people to become shareholders in certain companies.

Two other men, Roland Smith, 42, and Leonard Odell, 34, also pleaded not guilty.

Errol Flynn died here while visiting Caldough in 1959. Caldough, unable to raise $75,000 bail, has been in jail here since his arrest in England last November.

Mr. Justice J. G. Ruttan, who termed the jury quizzing "serious," said he would not decide immediately whether the action was proper or improper. The jury has not yet been empanelled.

just a few of the other interesting features in this week's issue now on sale:

HOW GOSSIPS BREAK THE LAW—Have you ever "talked about" a neighbour in a derogatory way? Have you ever commented out loud before witnesses on someone's drinking or moral habits? Have you ever referred to a politician as a crook or a doctor as a quack? Watch it! You can be sued! This article tells how loose talk can cost you money.

OTTAWA'S PASS-CATCHING POLITICIAN—The great Ottawa Rough Rider end Bob Simpson is catching more than passes as he performs brilliantly for the Grey Cup champions; he's also snaring votes. Touted as a possible all-time scoring champion of Canadian football, Simpson has fun too. Trent Frayne tells the inside story of the one-time dead end kid from Windsor.

HOME AND SCHOOL A WASTE OF TIME, BUT—A Star Weekly writer who served as president of a Home and School Association says they can be a waste of time the way they are run now but they need not be. In a provocative article, he makes specific suggestions as to how "dead duck" Home and School Associations can be changed into vital influences in Canadian life.

NEW FACES FOR OLD—These days it seems that almost all men and women in our culture want to appear younger than they really are. To meet this demand the medical profession has perfected a relatively old technique for removing wrinkles called "face peeling." The doctors call it superficial chemosurgery. It can make you look younger but it's dangerous in the hands of the medically untrained.

Betting Total At $426,938 For Six Days

Barring any radical change in the almost-perfect weather which has been a feature since the meeting opened on Sept. 15, Sandown Park should break the betting record set last year well ahead of the Thanksgiving Day closing date on Oct. 9.

It was Sidney day at the Sidney strip yesterday, and about 2,000 race fans pushed another $57,052 through the mutuel windows, an amount termed by one track official as "very gratifying."

It brought the total wagering for the first six days to $426,938, well ahead of the pace required for the first million-dollar season.

There are at least nine more days of racing left in the lengthened meeting, and there is a good chance that there will be 10 more days. Application has been made to race next Monday to make up for the "dark day" last Friday, when the program had to be cancelled because of lack of entries.

Approval of the application is expected.

Fittingly enough, yesterday's best race was the Sidney Invitational Handicap, run over the marathon distance of a mile and three furlongs.

Favored Resemblance tried to make it in front all the way and just missed lasting. After dueling with Val Read to the head of the stretch, Resemblance had to take show money as the first three provided a blanket finish.

Two Jacks, a five-year-old brown gelding making his first Sandown start, drove through a narrow opening at the head of the stretch and got up for a neck decision over Final Exam, who had a nose on Resemblance.

NEW RECORD

The time was a new track record of 2.19.2, a full two seconds better than the old mark set by Nettie's Pride in 1956 and equalled by Text in 1957. As an extra reward, Two Jacks was decorated by Sidney-queen Rolinda Orchard.

It was the third win of the day for jockey Celestino Dominguez, now pushing for the riding lead after a slow start, and it was the fifth time that double-figure win prices were posted on the board.

Two Jacks paid $10.80 but two fillies who had won at Sandown earlier in the meet did even better. Miss Rundle paid $16.30 in the second event and Lady Flag $12.30 in the sixth race.

Davendell, no closer than third in two previous starts, took to the extra distance in the mile and 70 yards fifth race and rewarded backers with a $19.60 straight payoff, largest of the day.

Honeywell paid $12.30 in the fourth race with Saanich Prince, second twice in two previous starts, More Drive and Malcolm G making it as betting favorites.

Racing resumes again tomorrow and is scheduled to continue through Saturday. If permission is given to pick up the lost day, there will be a card on Monday.

Aggravation of knee injury suffered last season has sidelined Dickie Moore of Montreal Canadiens, who left last night for Montreal and further treatment. Moore had the knee operated on to remove torn cartilage two months ago, and re-injured it in practice. He is expected to be ready for National Hockey League opener Oct. 14.—(Robin Clarke photo.)

Hockey Roundup

Dickie Sent Home

Dickie Moore limped aboard a plane and headed for Montreal last night, nursing a knee injury that will keep him on the sidelines for Montreal Canadiens' exhibition hockey tour starting tonight against the Canucks in Vancouver.

Moore had his left knee operated on to remove torn cartilage two months ago, and aggravated the injury in workouts at Memorial Arena.

"We don't think it's serious and he'll be ready by the time the National Hockey League opens," coach Toe Blake said. "But the doctor examined him, and said he's be a lot better off taking treatments at home then he would be practicing and playing with us. So we sent him home."

BUCKAROOS START

Meanwhile, Portland Buckaroos joined the Canadiens and Spokane Comets in preparing for the season in Victoria. Coach Hal Laycoe had 18 players out for two skating sessions at Esquimalt Municipal Centre yesterday and plans to start scrimmaging today.

In camp are goalkeepers Reno Zanier and Harvey Lerfel, defencemen Don Ward, Jack Bionda, Ron Matthews, Bill Davidson and Wayne Hauser, and forwards Arlo and John Goodwin, Gordie Fashoway, Art Jones, Ed Panagabko, Ed Dudych, Gene Achtymichuk, Bill Saunders, Sid Garant, Dick Vincent and Des Maroney.

ALMOST SET

Only three more players are expected by the Buckaroos, Western Hockey League playoff champions, who start with only a few open spots.

Rightwinger Arnie Schmautz has been delayed in Portland by the demands of his roofing business and Dale Rolfe, a standout rookie defenceman last season, and a goalkeeper are due to arrive soon.

The goalkeeper will be either Don Head, last season's top rookie, or Bruce Gamble. Boston Bruins are giving Head a tryout and, if they keep him, will send Gamble as a replacement.

General-manager and coach Roy McBride of Spokane Comets had $350, credit cards and a driver's licence stolen from his hotel room here Sunday night.

Detroit Red Wings, minus Gordie Howe and Norm Ullman, beat Edmonton Flyers, 4-1, in Edmonton Sunday to open their 12-day tour, and tied them, 4-4, last night.

Howe, with bruised ribs, and Ullman, with pulled knee ligaments, will miss the entire tour. The Red Wings play Portland Buckaroos here Saturday.

Boston Bruins, playing their fourth game in five nights, had enough left to beat Sudbury Wolves, 5-1, last night, getting two goals from Andre Pronovost and singles from Murray Oliver, Terry Gray and Johnny Bucyk.

* * *

Former Victoria Cougar coach George Agar opened training camp for Los Angeles Blades of the Western Hockey League in Saskatoon yesterday with 20 rookies and 12 veterans including ex-Cougars Doug Macauley, Jim Hay, Don McLeod and Gerry Goyer, Marcel Pelletier and George Ford are expected within a few days.

* * *

Blades got help from New York Rangers yesterday. New York shipped out defencemen Ralph Keller and Les Hunt and forward Danny Belisle.

Rangers, who beat Springfield, 5-0, Sunday, sent Paul Andrea of Guelph Royals and Wally Chevrier of Kitchener-Waterloo to Vancouver Canucks.

BOB WHYTE

Bob Whyte Dead at 72

Robert Sinclair "Bob" Whyte, athlete, coach and friend of sport for more than 50 years, died in Royal Jubilee Hospital yesterday after a week's illness. He was 72.

Whyte played baseball and lacrosse, and was one of the stars of the great Victoria West soccer clubs of the 1920s. But basketball was his first love, and his dedication to the sport won him the title of "Mr. Basketball" in Victoria.

No one knows how many championship teams of which he was member or coach, but his long sports career could be traced in a pile of photographs displayed last night by his sister, Alexandra M. Whyte, at 155 Rendall Street, where Whyte was born and lived his entire life.

The earliest, dated 1909, shows Whyte as a member of the James Bay Athletic Association baseball teams. There is one of him as a guard on the B.C. senior "A" men's basketball team from First Presbyterian Church in 1923-24, the same year he coached a city girls' team to a provincial title.

There were other pictures, showing Whyte with various girls' softball and basketball clubs he coached through the years. The latest, taken in 1950, showed him with another B.C. championship basketball team.

Whyte is survived by Miss Whyte and two nephews, Austin Renfree, Chemainus, and Rev. H. A. Renfree, Lancaster, New Brunswick.

Funeral services will be held at First United Church, where Whyte was recording secretary for the Sunday school since 1921. Day and time will be announced later by Hayward's Funeral Parlor.

Mann Cup Returned to West As Vancouver Nips Ramblers

VANCOUVER—A four-year rebuilding job got its final stamp of excellence here last night as Vancouver brought the Mann Cup and the Canadian senior lacrosse championship back to the west with a 9-8 victory over Brampton Ramblers.

Perhaps a bit overconfident after beating the Brampton club by scores of 14-6, 11-7 and 13-0 in the first three games of the best-of-seven final, the Vancouver club had its hands full with the Ramblers and didn't lock up the title until there were less than two minutes remaining in regulation time.

MAKE IT TOUGH

After playing to a 4-4 tie in the first quarter, Vancouver fired three unanswered goals in the second period and appeared on the way to another romp. But Brampton fought back with three straight goals in the third period to make it 7-7 going into the last three minutes.

Pete Black's third goal of the night put Vancouver ahead, 8-7, but Gord Thompson tied it up again on a power play at 5.53. Brampton goalie Bob Savage kept his club in the fight with two spectacular saves on Bill Barbour and another on Fred Usselman before speedy Bob Babcock fired the winner on a 40-foot drive.

WAITED IT OUT

It was the end of a long fight for the Vancouver club, which started out stacked with juniors four years ago, took its lumps, but stayed together and grew into a league champion last year before collapsing in the playoffs.

This season, Vancouver slipped to second in the Inter-City Lacrosse League, but polished off Nanaimo and New Westminster to win the western Canada title. The Mann Cup win was Vancouver's first since 1949.

Black finished with three goals last night. Usselman added two, and Barbour, Babcock, Gord Gimple and Alec Carey each scored once. Thompson scored twice for Ramblers and Gary Moore, George Kapasy, Wayne Thompson, Brian A'Hearn, Roy Bennell and Bert Naylor got one each.

Barbour, who had nine goals and nine assists in the four games, was chosen the outstanding player.

Savage was brilliant in stopping 26 shots. Don Hamilton, who recorded the first shutout in modern lacrosse history Saturday night, blocked 20 shots before giving way to Stan Joseph in the fourth quarter. Joseph kicked out seven.

Brampton—Goal: Savage; defence: G. Thompson, Finnigan, Ford, Kapasky, [illegible] W. Thompson, Moore, Cavalier, Madgett, A'Hern, Naylor, Bennett.

Vancouver—Goal: Hamilton; defence: MacKay, Barbour, Ferst, Chisholm, [illegible] Black, Babcock, Perry, Usselman, Gimple, [illegible] Carey, Hunt, Brewer.

Referees: Jack Northup, Jake Procter, Earl McDonald.

As Eskimos Win

Bright Does the Work

REGINA—Johnny Bright lost his Western Conference rushing title to Calgary's Earl Lunsford last year, but no one who saw Edmonton's great fullback in action here last night will bet against his getting it back this year.

Bright was almost unstoppable in Edmonton's 16-1 victory over Saskatchewan Roughriders, a win that moved them three points ahead of Winnipeg Blue Bombers in the Western Conference.

Jackie Parker looked after most of the scoring as usual, passing to Bobby Walden for one touchdown, scoring another himself, and kicking both converts. But it was Bright the battering ram who sparked the Esks offence.

The former Drake University great, league rushing champion in 1957-58-59, carried the ball 17 times and accounted for 141 yards.

From a statistical standpoint the game was a saw-off. Both clubs had a total offence of 300 yards. Esks made 204 yards rushing and 109 passing for 17 first downs; Riders ran for 165 yards and passed for 145 for 18 first downs.

But Esks were clear winners, building up an 8-0 lead in the first half, despite a solid effort from the Riders' defence, on a punt by Walden and the 30-yard touchdown pass from Parker.

Saskatchewan was inside Esks' 25-yard line twice in the first half, but scorned the chances for three points on a field goal. They lost the ball on downs.

FUMBLE A CLINCHER

A fumble by Jim Copeland on the Saskatchewan 32-yard line set up Parker's touchdown. Three carries by Bright got the ball to the one-yard line and Parker romped over from there.

Riders got their only point in the fourth quarter on a 45-yard punt by Ferd Burket.

Bombers still have two games in hand over the Esks in which to make up the three-point deficit. The picture isn't as bright for the Riders, who are tied for third place with Calgary Stampeders but have played two more games.

Stamps get a chance to take over third place by themselves Saturday night when they play the Argonauts in Toronto.

Argonauts Get Riders On Rebound

TORONTO — Ottawa Rough Riders, stung by two straight losses, pounced on the crippled Toronto Argonauts for a 29-10 victory here Sunday to move within four points of first-place Hamilton in the Eastern Football Conference.

Toronto's patched-up Argos, without fullback Cookie Gilchrist, ends Menan Schriewer and Gerry Philp and linemen Boyd Carter and Stan Wallace, were easy meat for an Ottawa club that looked more like the Grey Cup champions they were last year.

Quarterback Russ Jackson, Dave Thelen, Ron Stewart and tackle Gilles Archambault got a touchdown apiece. Gary Schreider made all the converts and Jim Conroy got away an 86-yard punt for a single.

Quarterback Tobin Rote scored Toronto's touchdown. Bill Mitchell converted it and kicked a 17-yard field goal.

Rote was under tremendous pressure by the huge Ottawa defensive line. He completed 19 of 36 passes for 260 yards, but had two intercepted and fumbled twice, once setting up an Ottawa touchdown.

Minor Soccer Scoring Rash

Three out of four games in Sunday's minor soccer schedule resulted in one-sided shutouts and the other was an 8-1 decision.

Oak Bay Optimists shut out Brentwood, 8-0, in Division II action and Saanich Thistles humbled Langford Legion, 8-1.

Speaking Briefly

Ray Barely Makes It

DETROIT (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, aiming for a crack at another middleweight title bout, came off the canvas after a low blow and scored a split decision over Willie Greaves, formerly of Edmonton, in 10 rounds Monday night.

The 41-year-old Robinson, five-time middleweight king, spotted his aggressive opponent 16 years but was able to withstand Greaves' lunging blows to the head to earn the close decision.

Robinson weighed 160¼ pounds, one pound more than Greaves.

Judge Nick Thimmesch scored the fight 47-46 for Robinson under the five-point must system. Judge Al Goodman scored it 46-44 Robinson while referee Lou Handler favored Greaves 45-44.

Greaves, who claims the Canadian middleweight championship, dropped Robinson with a left to the groin just before the bell in the eighth round. Handler counted one over Robinson before the round ended, but said the low punch counted as a knockdown. It was the only knockdown of the fight.

"It was a low blow," Handler said, "but it has to be scored as a knockdown."

It was Robinson's first victory in 18 months and his first fight since March, when he lost to Gene Fullmer in a championship bout.

Greaves was the aggressor throughout with Robinson momentarily flashing his old form in the fourth and ninth rounds.

AT THE 19th

With Harry Young

Two youngsters of the Victoria club were this season's first winners of the city junior buttons. At Uplands Sunday Al Manson and Jim Cathro beat Earle Francis and Vic Derman of Gorge Vale by 5-4.

The match was square at the seventh, but Manson, the tall left-hander, struck a hot streak in the later stages. The Victoria boys won the ninth, 11th, 12th, 13th and 14th holes to close out the match.

Next game on Sunday is at Victoria with Noel Pumfrey and John McCormick, two promising 16-years-olds of the Gorge club, as challengers.

John Carlow, president of the B.C. Golf Association, who underwent a serious illness 18 months ago, has confirmed that he had not only recovered his health but is as good a golfer as he is a legislator by reaching the final of his club's championship for the first time.

John, who is also president of Gorge Vale Golf Club, qualified Sunday for the 36-hole final by beating Vince Wheatley in the semi-final, 5-4.

In this Sunday's final, Carlow will meet John Merriman, who was medallist in the qualifying round and has been the favorite for the championship since Bill Wakeham was eliminated.

Merriman won his semi-final against Jack Sterrie, the man who had earlier beaten Wakeham, 4 and 2.

One of the interesting points about this final is that Carlow is a former schoolmate and long-time friend of John Merriman's father, and young John is in the habit of calling his opponent in the final "dad."

Most of the favored candidates pulled through their first round matches in the Colwood club championship Sunday. Nearest to a surprise was a close-miss by George Graham in his match with former-champion Bill McColl.

McColl was four up with six to go and then lost his touch to lose four holes including the 17th and 18th, at which he took seven strokes each. McColl, however, won the 19th with a par four.

The matches in the second round this week are Laurie Kerr vs. Stan Evans, Vic Painter vs. H. Jacobsen; Bill McColl vs. George Ault and Bill Garner vs. Don Ross.

The two giants of the Vancouver Island Juvenile Canadian Football League collide next Sunday at Carnarvon Park.

Farmer Construction and Vampires have both won their first three starts. Farmers haven't given up a point while scoring 95, and Vampires, with 118 points to their credit, gave up their first points Sunday when beating Nanaimo, 26-12.

Fred Holmes scored three touchdowns for Vampires, giving him 55 points in three games. Neil Worboys got the other touchdown and Dann Hess kicked two converts. Al Matson got both Nanaimo touchdowns.

At Campbell River, Courtenay scored its first two points of the season, and they were enough for a 2-1 victory over Campbell River.

Ed Detford kicked a third-quarter single to give Campbell River a 1-0 lead, but Dan Hutchins came back to boot two singles for Courtenay in the last quarter.

In Fraser Valley Junior League play, Victoria Hornets were beaten, 22-7, by Renfrew Trojans at Burnaby and UBC Braves blanked Surrey Rams, 19-0.

Spahn Reaches 20 Again

Reds Close but Face Toughest Clubs

Cincinnati Reds need only one more victory to clinch a tie for the National League pennant but unless Los Angeles Dodgers co-operate by losing at least one of their six remaining games, the Reds are going to have to clinch against the two clubs who have been their most troublesome opponents all season.

Today, Bob Purkey is scheduled to pitch against the Chicago Cubs, who hold a 12-9 edge over the Reds although they have clinched seventh place.

The Reds then rest until Friday, when they complete the season with a three-game series in Pittsburgh. The dethroned Pirates have won nine of 19 games against the Reds.

Both the Reds and Dodgers marked time yesterday as the Dodgers were rained out at Pittsburgh. They are scheduled for a doubleheader there today, at Philadelphia Wednesday and Thursday and wind up at Chicago on Saturday and Sunday.

Both clubs continued to have the pennant jitters Sunday, the Reds taking a 12-5 drubbing from San Francisco Giants, who have third place all but sewn up, and the Dodgers stumbling at St. Louis, 8-7, after dropping behind by 6-0.

But the real feature of Sunday's action was provided by Warren Spahn, the amazing 40-year-old lefthander who is still about the best in the business.

Spahn, who had been knocked out of the box twice in a row in search of his 20th win after 10 consecutive victories, all route-going jobs, made sure of it with a two-hitter as Milwaukee Braves blanked the Cubs, 8-0.

It marked the 12th time that Spahn has won 20 or more games in a season, tops for a lefthander and a mark of excellence exceeded in major league baseball by only two righthanders. Christy Mathewson did it 13 times and Cy Young, who wound up with 511 victories, did it 16 times.

Spahn's win Sunday was the 308th of his career.

Sunday also saw Roger Maris balked again in his search for a 60th home run.

He drew a walk in four times at bat and, obviously discouraged, announced that he didn't think he would get his record-tying homer.

He said opposing pitchers "are more concerned with getting me to go after a bad ball than in getting me out. I thought the pressure would be off me after the 154th game but it's worse than ever now."

The Yankees complete the season at home with two games against Baltimore Orioles and three against Boston Red Sox. They have been resting their regulars, except Maris, and tuning up their pitchers for world series action ever since clinching the American League pennant.

Next game: Saturday, Kickers vs. Evcoes, 2 p.m., Royal Athletic Park.

Larry Johnston is obviously ready to play in the Victoria and District Football League, but he poses a happy problem to his Canadian Scottish team. Where do they play him?

As a goalkeeper in high school play last season Johnston had nine consecutive shut-outs. In his one-game trial with the Scots he played centre-forward and scored four goals.

Sunday he was back at centre-forward, and the 18-year-old scored seven goals to lead Scots to a 10-2 victory over Ladysmith.

DUNCAN ROMPS

In other games, Eugene Thorn scored five goals to lead Duncan Rangers to an 8-1 romp over Saanich Thistles; Dick Martin got all four goals for Brodie's Bakery in a 4-3 win over Victoria Wests; Hourigan's Kickers blanked Nanaimo, 6-0; Evcoes edged Esquimalt, 2-1, and Gorge Hotel beat Heaneys, 3-1.

Results left Kickers, Gorge Hotel and Brodies tied for first place with 2-0 records, one point ahead of Canadian Scottish.

King Fisherman

Bob Well Ahead In Trophy Hunt

Bob Wright has taken another jump ahead in his quest for six King Fisherman Prime crests and the Compleat Angler's trophy.

He has caught a 51:4-pound tyee salmon at Nahmint which will virtually assure him a tyee crest. he already has spring salmon, river trout and bass crests.

He still has to get a lake trout crest and a coho crest.

Wright was worried about his tyee crest. He ranged to Gold River, Nimpkish River and Alberni Inlet in his search, and last month with a 44:6-pounder from Gold River fell just short of the 25 top crest winners.

He had the same experience with his spring crest when he placed 26 one month and had to go out and catch a 39:11 spring at Oak Bay to win his crest the next month.

Last year Wright was the first person to ever win crests in all five divisions, but coho gave him his trouble. A lake trout, he says, will be easy because he has picked out a special little-known lake where all the trout grow big.

STILL IN RUNNING

Frank Hughes, who already won three crests, is still very much in the running and plans to hit Alberni Inlet this weekend to seek his tyee crest.

If he gets it, he thinks he will have little trouble in winning bass and lake trout crests. If he doesn't make his tyee crest by next Sunday he can be pretty well counted out of the running because Oct. 1 is about the end of the tyee season and it is thought likely the whole Alberni Inlet will be closed at that time.

This Reducing Plan Really Works

"The Naran Plan is what I have been hoping for. I was just about convinced that I was fat for life when a friend told me about your plan. To my surprise I began to get results at the end of the first week and have been losing ever since. I am sure that I can now keep my weight where I want it." — W. Montgomery, Montreal, P.Q.

Overweight people generally fall into two classes, those who have tried to reduce and failed and those who have never tried at all. You do not have to be in either group. Make up your mind that you are no longer going to suffer the discomfort and embarrassment of being overweight. You are not far from a drug store, walk over and ask for the Naran Plan and begin today to lose weight while eating three meals a day. It is that simple. after you have lost weight you will wonder why you didn't do it sooner. Advt.

Interlocking Schedule Stays

By the Canadian Press

The Canadian Football League's east-west interlocking schedule introduced to fans this season is here to stay. But changes likely will be made after the two-year partial interlocking plan ends in 1962.

This is the consensus of officials in the nine CFL cities who were questioned on the subject by The Canadian Press. Most figured it was a good thing for football and one president, Jake Gaudaur of Hamilton Tiger-Cats, said he was "ecstatic" about it.

The big problem, most admit, has been the scheduling which called for 20 interlocking games—10 each in the east and west—in the opening six weeks of the season. Teams making eastern or western swings played two or three games over a period of five or six days and this, officials said, was too tough to take.

BOOSTED ATTENDANCE

With two more east-west games remaining, attendance figures bear out officials' optimism. Record crowds were set at Ottawa, Hamilton and Edmonton. On the scoreboard the east won 10 games, the west six and two were tied.

Gaudaur has reason to be enthusiastic. Tiger-Cats, last-place finishers in the Big Four in 1960, won their opening seven games and, says Gaudaur, "fans were hanging out the windows" to see Ticats in a couple of these.

"The interlocking schedule has surpassed our fondest expectations. It will take a couple of years to iron out all the difficulties, but then things will be okay."

Ken Preston, manager of the Saskatchewan Roughriders, enthused that "it is the best thing that has happened to Canadian football in a long time. We're definitely happy about it . . . I don't think we'll ever dispose of the interlocking schedule; the fans would be in an uproar."

Kickers Decide Close NFL Games

In seven weekend games, five were decided by a converted touchdown or less—mostly less with the difference one point in one game, three points in two games and four points in one game.

Detroit Lions, who have given up only 18 points in their first two games while beating the two clubs expected to give them the biggest tussle for the Western Division title, relied on veteran Jim Martin in their 16-15 squeaker over Baltimore Colts.

Martin kicked three field goals, the last from 49 yards with just over three minutes left to provide the needed points.

Veteran Lou Groza, coming out of a one-year retirement, was up to his old tricks as Cleveland Browns nosed by St. Louis Cardinals, 20-17. Groza kicked two field goals, the last from 19 yards in the last minute to break a tie.

And the difference in the 17-14 win scored by New York Giants over Pittsburgh Steelers was a field goal by Pat Summerall.

All together, the seven weekend games produced 14 field goals and placement kickers converted every one of the 26 touchdowns scored.

SAM SHOOK UP

Sam Etcheverry was out of action when the Browns came from behind to beat the Cardinals. The former Montreal Alouette ace, who had pitched two short touchdown passes in the first half, was knocked unconscious early in the third quarter by charging Cleveland linemen. Cards held a 14-10 lead at the time.

Etcheverry claimed his sore throwing arm gave him no trouble but he contented himself mainly with short passes, completing nine of 19 for 94 yards.

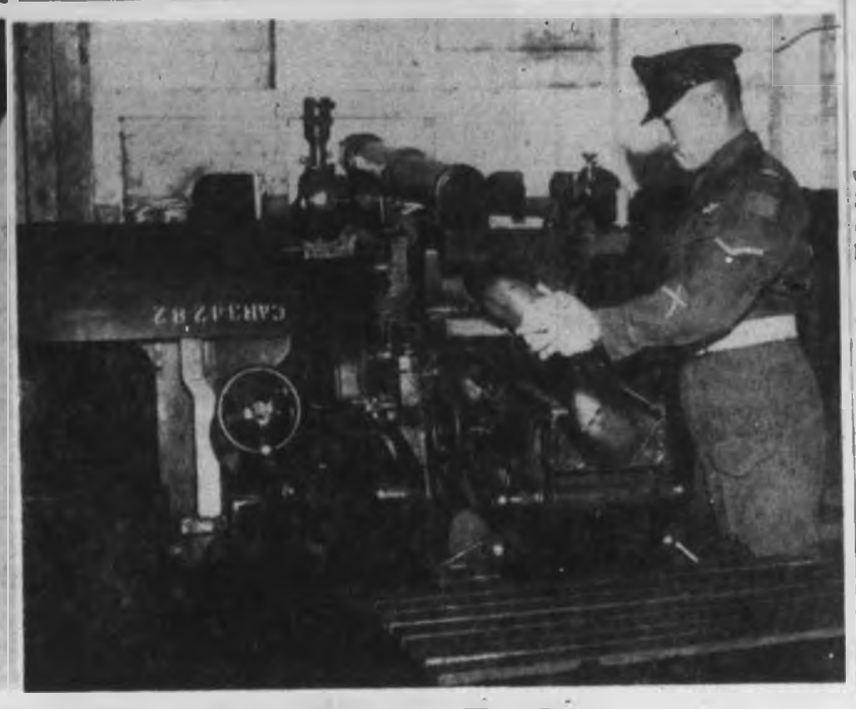
Mayor Won't Accept Official Report

Mayor Percy Scurrah indicated yesterday he won't accept an official report that Victoria's preliminary census shows "no evidence of under-enumeration." The mayor said the drop of 723 shown by the census is of vital importance to the city—"not from the point of view of pride but of dollars and cents" in per capita grants from the province over the next five years. He will continue to press for a recount.

Guzzwell 'Needs the Money'

Historic Trekka Up for Sale For Mere $4,750 in U.S.



Time-Telling Gun Enough to Blast a Tank

Muzzle of 105-millimetre artillery gun noses through gunport of shed at Work Point. Asbestos shingles were blown away from shed by an anti-tank gun there in past.—(Colonist photos.)

Field artillery gun designed for battlefield use and powerful enough to knock out army tank now is used to let Victoria know when it's noon and 9 p.m. Loading the weapon is L.Cpl. Joseph Overton of the PPCLI, one of 15 soldiers who take turns manning time-gun.

Bring Her Home Victorians Asked

The sturdy little yawl Trekka, which brought world-wide publicity to the city of Victoria during a 33,000-mile cruise around the world by her lone skipper-owner John Guzzwell, is up for sale, the Colonist learned last night.

Lt.-Col. D. Stewart Mitchell, 10467 All Bay, who fears the city may lose forever the best "ambassador" it has ever had, said the Trekka is lying at anchor in San Pedro, Calif., where anyone can buy her for a mere $4,750.

Skipper Guzzwell was welcomed here by thousands at the end of his four-year cruise in September, 1959. At that time, he dashed hopes from various quarters that the Victoria-built boat should be placed in Thunderbird Park beside her predecessor, the famous Tilikum.

NEEDS MONEY

Trekka was "not for sale and too good a boat to be enshrined," he said then.

"She's up for sale now," said Col. Mitchell. "Unfortunately, he (Guzzwell) needs the money."

Skipper Guzzwell and his wife arrived here last week on a government ferry, it is believed, leaving Trekka at San Diego at the end of a cruise which started in June this year.

Not even their closest friends here knew they were going when Trekka slipped anchor and sailed quietly away from Canoe Cove.

START A FUND

Keel of the 20½-foot Trekka was glued together in the basement of the YMCA at 1203 Blanshard. The hull was completed behind a View Street fish and chip shop.

Col. Mitchell agrees with others here that Trekka should be exhibited in Victoria. He hopes someone will start a fund to purchase the historic vessel.

She should stay in Victoria, not go to a Yankee—with all due respects to our friends below the border," he said.

NEVER BETTER

"I hope to start a fund and buy the boat so it can live in Victoria the rest of its days, where it should be. They've never had a better ambassador. We'd like to get her into the B.C. Maritime Museum."

He said he has spoken to Guzzwell, who offered to deliver Trekka to Victoria for $4,000.

Two Dogs Sought By Owners

Two dogs, a black Labrador female named Duchess and a German shepherd pup answering to the name of Duke are being sought by owners Mr. and Mrs. Larry Walker, Sooke Road.

The pair, missing from home since Friday afternoon, are believed to be in the Sooke Road area and owners ask anyone seeing them to phone GR 8-1606.

Neighbors have reported their own dogs raising a fuss during the last few nights leading owners to believe the dogs are still in the area.

Less Bang at 9 Army Assures Unhappy Public

By JACK FRY

Firing of a gun at Work Point at noon and 9 p.m. has become such a routine procedure that military and civil officials no longer know how or when the custom originated.

City officials have plenty of information about another familiar sound in this area, the 9.30 p.m. curfew whistle at the brewery. But this too has its complications — police say they can't enforce the curfew bylaw.

PLASTER LOOSE

Attention was drawn to the 9 o'clock gun recently by a number of local residents who complained the daily blast jars plaster loose in their homes, breaks windows and frightens women, children and household pets.

Army officials said yesterday they will investigate the possibility of reducing the noise and "ensure that any adverse effects to the civilian populace are minimized."

They were at a loss, along with civic officials, as to when the twice-daily custom started and whether it has any significance beyond obvious time-signals at noon and 9 p.m.

"The exact history of this ritual is not known by serving members of the Esquimalt garrison," said an army spokesman, who added "a similar time-gun is fired by the army at Halifax."

ROYAL ENGINEERS

Another army spokesman said it may date back to the days when the Royal Engineers were stationed here.

In post-war years, a Second World War anti-tank gun was used for the daily signals until little more than a year ago when it was hauled away and replaced by a 105-millimetre field artillery piece.

NEED 50 MORE

Chief Constable John Blackstock said he would need 50 more men to enforce the curfew bylaw.

The curfew bylaw, passed in 1943 and suspended by a similar bylaw in 1959, requires that children under 16 be off the streets by 9.30 p.m.

DAILY WARNING

The downtown brewery is paid $100 a year to sound the daily warning.

Under terms of the bylaw, offenders are warned by police. If they are caught a second time they are to be taken home by the police. If this happens repeatedly, parents or guardians can be taken to court and fined a maximum of $5.

Chinese Opera Big Hit

A Chinese operatic performance at the Royal Theatre Sunday netted the Ching Won Dramatic Society of Vancouver $600 profits which will be spent on charity, it was reported yesterday.

About 80 per cent of the downstairs seats were taken, mostly by Chinese, in the performance which lasted five hours.

"People loved it. We're more than happy," a spokesman said.

Sea-Going Pickets Decry Log Boom

Women of View Royal set up a sea-going picket line yesterday morning, then learned later in the day that some of their worst fears were groundless.

For almost a year View Royal residents have been fighting a move by local lumber companies to get a foreshore lease in the adjacent harbor for log booms.

Their protest, at a meeting last October, won them the assurance of the government that they would be notified if any such step was taken.

Thursday a piledriver was moved into the nearby waters of Esquimalt Harbor, and Friday work was started to install dolphins for a log boom.

Sure that the dreaded lease had been granted without their being notified, a group of View Royal women set out yesterday morning in rowboats, and picketed the piledriver.

'STILL CLEAR'

Lloyd Young, 284 Helmcken, president of the embattled View Royal Ratepayers' Association, yesterday afternoon had an interview with Lands and Forest Minister Ray Williston.

Mr. Williston was able to show him, by an old map, that the lease which the new piledriving work is going on is an old one—not threatening a new foreshore lease.

"It is a lease that had never been developed," Mr. Young said later, "so the inshore area is still clear.

"Our members will be asked to maintain a constant patrol on inshore waters. If any violation occurs, it will be reported and acted on at once."

Youths Escape In Crash

Driver and two passengers escaped injury when their car went out of control at a sharp corner on Townley Road last night and flipped on its side, ending up in a flower bed.

Saanich police said driver was Ronald Bruce Morley, 17, of 3291 Cedar Hill Road. Passengers were Terry Brandon, 17, of 3831 Cedar Hill Cross Road, and Brian Lamb, 17, of 4190 Cedar Hill Road.

Weekend Crime

Safe Burned, Looted Thieves Rob Visitors

A stolen, torched safe headed a list of city break-ins during the weekend that netted thieves about $800.

City police were advised early Sunday a small safe, still smouldering, had been found in bushes off Munn Road in Saanich.

PAPER FOUND

A partially-burned paper from the safe bore the name of the Independent Order of Foresters, 2618 Quadra.

In city court yesterday, Richard Allen Main, 903 North Park, and Stanley Charles Rife, 723 Yates, were charged with breaking, entering and theft at the IOF premises.

BAIL WAS SET

Both requested remands to Oct. 2 for election of trial method and bail was set at $1,000 each.

While Forester officials said most of the organization's money had been banked Friday, the safe contained about $160 in cash and $181 in cheques.

Two apartments in downtown motels were reported prowled overnight Sunday. Roy McBride, general manager and coach of the Spokane Comets hockey team, said someone entered by an unlocked door and stole $350.

MONEY CLIP

The thief lifted a pair of pants from a rack inside the door of a motel room at 427 Belleville and removed a money clip and a leather case.

Other victims were Mr. and Mrs. S. Schmidt of Seattle. The thief entered by an unlocked door to a room in a motel at 520 Menzies, stealing a woman's purse holding a small amount of money and a man's wallet containing about $100.

Police were also investigating a break-in at the Begbie Street Store, Begbie and Stanley, where possibly some soft drinks were stolen.

In a break-in at the Health and Welfare Centre, 1947 Cook, only article stolen was a voucher.

Other thieves took $21 from a cigaret machine in the Four Jacks Cafe, 1311 Blanshard. The cafe's record selector machines and pinball machines also were forced.

University Enrolment May Touch 1,750 Mark

Fall term enrolment at Victoria University may go as high as 1,750 when the last stragglers are in, a spokesman said here yesterday.

Latest available figures show total for the arts and science faculty stands at 1,091 and there are 630 education students. This gives an overall total enrolment of 1,721.

College officials reported, however, that the totals won't be firm until the end of this week.

Restoration Bid

Bastion Square Action Urged

A Chamber of Commerce committee for the preservation of historic buildings is preparing a detailed and illustrated brief to present to the chamber on the possibilities of restoring Bastion Square.

Dr. Hugh Borsman, chairman, said after a committee meeting yesterday that any restoration of the area must be done "on sound business principles or it won't work."

It would achieve no purpose to carry out such a project for the sole purpose of saving some old buildings. Restoration must be done in such a way it will pay for itself, he said. "We can't subsidize it forever."

Something has to be done with the area which is run down now and "becoming more and more decrepit," he said.

Initiative must be shown by the city and provincial governments because the small businessmen who would occupy restored buildings there don't have the kind of money it will take to get the project started, said Dr. Borsman.

Sam Lane Named

'Lots of Centennial Ideas'

A well-known booster of the tourist trade here, Sam Lane of the Olde England Inn, was given a centennial project yesterday.

Mr. Lane, a founder and past president of the Esquimalt Lions Club, was named co-chairman of a centennial sub-committee which will attempt to co-ordinate 1962 centennial projects among the local service clubs.

"I have a lot of ideas but they couldn't go into print yet until the first meetings of an exploratory nature are held," he said.

"I hope to inject into our service clubs a feeling of co-operation in making the centennial one of the biggest possible. We will want to stay with a traditional theme appropriate to such a great birthday celebration on a community-wide basis," said Mr. Lane.

"First, we will have to find out from the clubs the amount of co-operation we're liable to get and whether it will be one big project or alternatively individual efforts towards the overall promotion."

B.C. Will Refuse Lawsuit Over Payment for BCE

LEGAL BRIEF: Although it will be some time before the official announcement is made, the provincial government will reject a petition from B.C. Power Corp to sue the government for more compensation as a result of the takeover of the B.C. Electric Co.

The official reason will be that the legislature was the body that approved the terms of the compensation and that the cabinet has no authority to override such a decision.

Hence the petition will be rejected.

Incidentally, since the government took over the BCE Aug. 1, at least six people have been given permission by the cabinet to sue the new Crown corporation.

All these suits have been the result of negligence claims —such as a pedestrian hit by a BCE bus.

* * *

PASSING PARADE: Fall has really arrived--just ask any of the gardeners at the legislative buildings. All their time these days is being spent raking up leaves from the nearby oak trees.

* * *

FAR AWAY FIELDS: Victoria Jaycees will visit the Esquimalt Arena en masse this week before taking a vote on whether to hold next year's Jaycee fair there instead of at Memorial Arena.

The Jaycees sent out a committee the other night to view the facilities at Esquimalt, and its report was favorable.

In the meantime the Jaycees are wondering how it was their letter asking that Blanshard Street, in front of Memorial Arena, be closed for the midway became public knowledge so the Greater Victoria Celebrations' Association had time to send in a letter of its own asking the Jaycee request be denied.

Founder of the Greater Victoria Celebrations' Association is M. Frank Hunter, the city clerk.

If the Jaycees vote to hold their fair in Esquimalt, the move will cost the Memorial Arena commission some $8,000 in lost revenue.

THE COMMON TOUCH: Say what you like about Highways Minister P. A. Gaglardi there's something about him that enables people who have never even met him before to greet him as a long-lost friend. It is surprising how many meeting chairmen introducing the cabinet to an audience will intone: "The Hon. Wesley Black, minister of municipal affairs; the Hon. Ray Williston, minister of lands and forests; Phil Gaglardi; the Hon. Earle Westwood . . ." etc.

* * *

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM: As an aftermath to the egg-throwing parade by Victoria University students, city real estate salesman John Bennett comments: "Isn't it evident that our college students are more interested in fiddling while Rome burns?" . . . The SPCA, in reply to the piece here Sunday about the cocker spaniel pup kept at the shelter for a few days while the owner searched high and low, says it made a vain attempt to get in touch with the rightful owner and even sent out a postcard saying the dog was there. But the SPCA has no record of telephone calls asking if the animal was there . . . Uncle Bob and Shandy Gaff are two more who have left CHEK-TV.

Golden Anniversary Party at Ladysmith

LADYSMITH—Mr. and Mrs. William Barrie of Sandy Beach, Ladysmith, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at an open house at their seashore home. A host of friends extended congratulations to the celebrants.

The happy young couple seen cutting their wedding cake at their reception in the Wallace Room of Holyrood House are Mr. and Mrs. George Maurice Duruisseau. They were wed in St. Saviour's Church. The bride is the former Miss Sharon Arelene Mitchell. After a honeymoon at Okanagan Lake, they have made their home in Victoria.—(Ryan Bros. photo.)

Irish-born Mrs. Barrie (nee Edith Gilman) and Scottish-born William Barrie were married at Westminster Presbyterian Church, Winnipeg, Sept. 21, 1911.

Residents of Winnipeg for 39 years, they came to Ladysmith nine years ago.

A pre-anniversary family party was held in August, while their children and grandchildren were visiting on vacation. Present were their son, Dr. J. G. Barrie, and family of Estevan, Sask., with their two sons and a daughter; and the celebrants' daughter, Ethel, and her husband, Professor Paul Tunison, teacher of Physics and Mathematics at the Florida State University at Gainesville, Florida, and their son. Mrs. Tunison also teaches at the university.

The couple hope to go to Florida for Christmas, as they do every year.

Mrs. Barrie is a member of Sharon Chapter No. 4, Order of the Eastern Star, and Mr. Barrie is a member of St. John's Lodge of the Masonic Order at Ladysmith. Both are adherents of First United Church.

Lunchboxes Can Be Interesting

The little red school house of yesteryear is rapidly being replaced by an ultra-modern structure. However, the old-fashioned touch still remains in many areas in the lunch boxes swinging from the hands of young hopefuls pouring into the schools. While lunch is provided for students in many schools, this is not the case in every community. Consequently many a mother is busy checking her memory or lunch box file in anticipation of another long session of lunch box preparations.

Planning lunches which will fill, nourish and satisfy your young hopefuls is not always easy. Monotony can be the chief enemy to upset your menus. However, preparing a variety of different lunches is not the problem it used to be. Chiefly because of the numerous pieces of equipment available for carrying different types of food easily and safely in the lunch kit. Every home today has some food come into it in plastic containers of one shape or another. The small to medium ones make ideal containers for holding salads, desserts, and sauces for the lunch box. Wide-mouth thermos bottles are a good investment since they permit a wide variety of hot and cold main courses to be carried with the assurance that the food will stay either hot or cold as the case may be.

Plan ahead a bit for your lunch boxes, suggests Poultry Products Institute. An extra cup cake frozen to be popped into the box long after the rest of the batch has been eaten or a serving of fried chicken frozen and then brought out later in the week, or a serving of favorite chicken stew, reheated after having been frozen, makes the lunch a bit more filled with surprises and less like left-overs from dinner.

Your Problems

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: For six years I've been married to a man who is married to the television set. We have three TV sets in our home and he keeps them all on so when he has to go from one room to another he won't miss anything.

Last week there was an electrical storm and all the power went off. We had our best conversation since TV was invented. He told me what was happening at the business and I told him things the kids were saying and doing. It was as if he'd been out of town for a couple of years.

I like to watch a few programs but I can't sit there and look at just anything. Please tell me how to get my husband away from the set. Or do I have to pray for another electrical storm?—NO MATCH

Dear No Match: It's up to you to prove to your husband that people can be more interesting than pictures. A wife who doesn't know how to compete with a seven-year-old movie isn't much of a woman.

Make social plans a couple of times a week. Have people in and go out with friends. Once you've made the arrangements he'll go. And if they are good arrangements he'll be glad he did.

* * *

Dear Ann: Our child was born four days too late to get into public school this fall. My husband and I are furious with the authorities because they refuse to make an exception.

Harold is a very bright child and can hold his own with children who are a year or two older than he is. If he were judged on the basis of his vocabulary and comprehension he would qualify for the first or second grade.

We feel that the school system is archaic and that entrance into the first grade should be based on what children know, not when they were born. May we hear your views?—K. L.

Dear K. L.: Experts in education say it is better for a child to enter school a little late than a little early.

Such children learn to read more rapidly and they get along better with other youngsters. Precocious children often run into trouble because their emotional development lags behind their intellectual development. Putting them in with older children can be a serious mistake.

Keep your bright child occupied at home with stimulating interests, and don't feel that the school authorities are being unreasonable. They are doing you—and your child—a greater service than you realize.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a widower who has been dating a widow for seven months. I am 53 and she is 45. I want to marry her but she is not ready to give me a final answer just yet. She goes with a few other men but I have reason to believe she prefers me.

The problem is that she has been affectionate in private but when any of her family is around, particularly her children, she refuses to let me even hold her hand. I think this is pretty foolish for a woman her age. I resent not being able to express my real feelings for her whenever I wish. Am I right when I say she is not open and above board?—FRANKLIN

Dear Frank: Sorry, but I think the woman is showing good judgment. Apparently she isn't ready to announce that there is more than just friendship between you and she is behaving with taste and discretion.

Spanish Women Gain Rights

By HENRY BUCKLEY

MADRID (Reuters) — The changing face of modern Spain is reflected in a new law giving women more rights and greater freedom.

The sweeping powers of the husband over his wife are not abloished by this la... they are considerably reduced.

A variety of administrative and other posts formerly closed to women now are opened.

From Jan. 1 next, it will be possible for a Spanish woman to become a bus conductor, or, at the other extreme, to be appointed ambassador or head of a government department.

Until now, a Spanish wife had to have her husband's signed authority before she could do even such simple things as apply for a passport or sell a piece of property.

From Jan. 1, the agreement of the husband to his wife's activities will be taken for granted unless he personally signifies his disagreement. If he does, the wife will be able to take the issue to court. If the court finds the husband's refusal is based on an "abuse of marital rights" or that he is "acting in bad faith," it can set aside his veto.

These modifications and the opening to women of almost all civil service careers except such juridicial posts as judges, public prosecutors or magistrates, change considerably the status of the Spanish woman.

Spanish women registered today as employed total 2,300,000 or 18 per cent of the working population. This figure does not include the large number of women working on family farms.

But there are still only 13,000 women undergraduates in Spanish universities in a population of 30,000,000 people, though there are a few outstanding career women, including Seniorita Pilar Primo de Rivera, who runs the women's section of the Falange movement.

Senorita Mercedes Sanz Bachiller is a leading authority on Spain's social welfare problems, and there are some well-known women writers.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Williams, 3268 Bellevue Road, announce the engagement of their eldest daughter, Carolyne Eileen, to Mr. Donald James Patterson, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Patterson, 1503 Charlton Road. Miss Bruce Gives Talk About Visit to Jamaica

The fact that the peoples of the British West Indies are more open to persuasion by speech than by the printed word was cited by Miss Ethel Bruce as being one of the main reasons why Sir Alexander Bustamante was able to sway the Jamaicans in their vote to withdraw from the West Indies Federation. "Bustamante may be right, but Jamaica is put in the position of being a rather selfish monitor of that group of islands, and whether they can benefit by Federation with out Jamaica remains to be seen."

Miss Bruce spoke on "A Glance at the West Indies" at a meeting of the University Women's Club of Victoria.

Although many of the people in Kingston are born, live and die without a bed or a roof, Miss Bruce, on a recent visit, found them a smiling, gracious, unembarrassed and hospitable people, who are ambitious for their children and anxious for them to have a better start in life. One of the biggest difficulties is arousing ambition among people who have been living so long in this debased way.

The atmosphere of Port of Spain in Trinidad was a contrast of brisk efficiency, although everyone was preoccupied with 'Carnival' during her visit. Everywhere, Miss Bruce said, she heard of the appalling dearth of teachers and school buildings.

Victorians are leaving their mark there. Dr. Helen Stewart, who was invited to set up a library, has been responsible for two beautiful modern libraries, and Dr. Edith Lucas has started a Correspondence Division for the Department of Education.

Mrs. A. J. Tullis introduced the speaker, who was thanked by Miss Jean Flatt.

Mrs. A. H. Gunning presided at the meeting, and the following new members were introduced by Mrs. J. L. Andrews: Mrs. R. G. Atkinson, Mrs. J. E. Browne, Mrs. H. S. Ford, Miss Marjorie McMillan, Mrs. D. G. Padmore, Mrs. D. A. Robertson, Mrs. J. F. Brunton.

Mrs. M. C. M. Matheson introduced conveners of study groups for the year, and three new standing committees were announced: Historic sites with Miss Ellen Hart convener; education, which is to try to get a collective considered opinion and to keep informed on current affairs in education, with Mrs. T. B. Williams convener; public affairs with Mrs. R. G. Hobson convener. It was noted with pleasure that Mrs. A. H. Gunning had been appointed to the Resolutions Committee of the CFUW following the 15th Triennial Conference in August.

Mrs. E. G. Tallman organized the serving of coffee and refreshments during an informal reception to new members.

HOW TO PUT A STOP TO EARLY-AGING SIGNS

Even the most skilful make-up can't hide flaky cheeks, crow's feet, little lines. But once you realize that these early-aging signs are caused by lack of natural moisture within the skin, you can take effective action! Use POND'S DRY SKIN CREAM. This famous cream contains Allantoin—a remarkable substance that starts to repair dry skin in just 10 minutes! Allantoin gently floats off the lifeless surface cells . . . opens the way for Pond's rich moisturized lanolin to penetrate deep-down into parched tissues. Almost overnight, your complexion becomes softer, smoother, younger-looking! Get POND'S DRY SKIN CREAM—use it regularly. In jar or tube, wherever cosmetics are sold. Advt.

Winning Contract

By HOWARD SCHENKEN and RICHARD L. FREY

"You should never confuse the improbable with the impossible," was a favorite remark of one of P. G. Wodehouse's famous characters. South did just that on today's deal, and suffered the sad fate of going down in a contract which it was almost impossible to lose.

The bidding is natural and obvious, but there are many players who dislike and avoid the obvious. Some Souths would make a cunning waiting bid of two clubs, but there is no point in this when an accurate descriptive bid is available. Another possible bid would be two spades, with the intention of following with three no trump on the next round. As it happens, that would have given North a very difficult rebid.

South won the first trick and thought he could count ten tricks, two spades, one heart, four diamonds and three clubs. Diamond length in the West hand would be harmless, and it was most unlikely that East would have long diamonds with his long spades. Declarer therefore cashed the ace of diamonds, a safety play against a singleton king in the West hand, and continued with the diamond jack. He felt and looked unhappy when West showed out, and felt worse when East won and continued spades. A spade was ducked, and a third round proved that East had started with a six-card suit. The ace and king of clubs were cashed, on the second of which East calmly discarded his heart five! East had foreseen that if he discarded normally he would be thrown in with one red suit to lead the other. The heart discard was another blow to South, who had been inclined to place East with the heart king for his bid. He gave a suspicious look at East, who looked innocent enough, and decided to believe it. He returned to hand with the club queen, and took the heart finesse for down one.

South's line of play was most unlikely to fail, but he could have taken a simple precaution which would have guaranteed success. After cashing the diamond ace, quite correctly, he should cross to a club on the board, and lead a low diamond. East must duck, and declarer can then make his ninth trick in hearts.

Friends Die Together

Death claimed two friends of many years' standing within minutes of each other and while they were visiting each other Sunday.

Victims of the tragic coincidence were Mrs. Ada Foster, 66, of 643 Langford, and Andrew Bugslag, 72, of 943 Fullerton.

Mrs. Foster and her husband George had gone to visit Mr. and Mrs. Bugslag at their home. During their stay Mr. Bugslag collapsed and died.

Mrs. Foster rushed to telephone for a doctor and suddenly fell to the floor—also dead.

"It was a dreadful thing," a friend of both families said later. "The two couples had been friends for years, and had gone about a great deal together.

Aid Air-Dropped

Surgery at Sea

TOKYO (UPI) — A California surgeon successfully performed a delicate eye operation on the widow of Hollywood movie producer Sam Zimbalist aboard a trans-Pacific passenger ship on its way from San Francisco to Yokohama, Japan, it was reported here.

The U.S. Navy made the emergency operation possible by air-dropping the necessary surgical instruments and equipment to the vessel, the 28,000-ton Orient Orcades of the P. and O. Lines.

The reports said the emergency operation was performed by Dr. Raymond Nutting of Piedmont, Calif., on Mrs. Margaret Zimbalist, 61, whose late husband produced the film epic "Ben Hur" and other top movies.

Nutting was a passenger on the vessel and was hurriedly called in for consultation by the ship's physician, Dr. Mack McMurrich.

Mrs. Zimbalist developed pains in her eye after the vessel left Honolulu. She was examined by the two doctors, who found she was suffering from "acute congestive glaucoma"—a disease causing internal pressure—according to Nutting.

Ulcer Victim 'Nice Guy'

EDMONTON (CP) — The man with ulcers is "a nice guy who doesn't like to get mad and is not the rough-and-tough aggressive type" he is usually supposed to be, Dr. R. W. Sherbaniuk of Edmonton said Monday.

"But besides wanting to please people," he said, "he also has a stomach that produces more acid than normal."

Dr. Sherbaniuk told the Alberta division of the Canadian Medical Association, holding a four-day convention, that ulcer patients should be treated for their personality, the acid in their stomachs and their social environment. If necessary, he said, they should be removed from a hostile or unnerving environment.

He said this treatment, including slight changes in diet and an antacid prescription, should cure ulcers in about a month. If the symptoms recurred, the same treatment would provide a cure again.

Civic Voters Hang Back Lists Close on Saturday

Registration of new civic voters is going slowly throughout Greater Victoria.

Final week for registrations began Monday. Civic offices in all four Greater Victoria municipalities will remain open all day Saturday and names will be added to the voters' list up to 5 p.m.

Victoria, which had expected heavy registrations because there is a mayoralty election this year, reported the total to date stands at 118. Last year total registrations were 321 and in 1959 the figure was 526.

Saanich and Oak Bay report registrations are coming in slowly and "very few" have been received in Esquimalt. No up-to-date figures are available.

Only non-owner electors are affected. Property owners automatically have their names placed on the voters' list. To qualify, non-owner electors must be British subjects, 21 and resident in the municipality for six months.

ANGLIA's built for both sides of the road... (or the ocean!)

In England, on The Continent, and right here in Canada, Anglia repeatedly proves to be the BIG LITTLE CAR. In England for example, gasoline costs the equivalent of 75¢ a gallon. More little cars are sold there than any other place in the world! Anglia outsells every other car regardless of size or make! The reason isn't just economy either. Take style. From gleaming grille to raked-back roof Anglia proves that a little car needn't be homely. As for performance, Anglia's rally-rousing habits are fast becoming legend with automobile men the world 'round. Economy! Style! Performance! Add them all up and you realize Anglia isn't just the BIG car in the little car class—it's really in a class by itself. Prove these facts to yourself. Test drive Anglia at your nearest Anglia-Consul-Zephyr dealer's. He's in the little car business so he talks a good little car price.

Invest in Beauty

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS.

Seems to me there is quite a tendency today to fritter our money away on what might be called "status symbols"—a car with more chromie on it than the Jones's, a panelled bar in the rumpus room to arouse the envy of the Smiths, a ritzier fur coat which is actually far too warm for our climate. I suppose these purchases pay off in a sense in building up the ego, but it seems to me that buying things to impress other people indicates a certain immaturity—or perhaps insecurity would be a better word.

I never regret money spent on objects which really contribute to a more gracious life—things which will give pleasure and satisfaction in themselves. Could be, perhaps, a phonograph record which will still excite and satisfy after a hundred playings, a book which can be dipped in with pleasure five years hence, a really comfortable and trouble-free heating system for the home. Or it could be a plant.

* * *

There are few of this life's pleasures which can be bought as cheaply as a flowering shrub and it is amazing how much beauty can be purchased for a couple of bucks. Our local nurserymen have a nation-wide reputation for the excellence of their stocks and the reasonable prices charged, and I have often wondered how they ever manage to make a living selling plants for a dollar or two which have been as much as three years in the raising.

However, while individual plants and shrubs are cheap to buy, few of us have the wherewithal to purchase enough of them for massed plantings—and it is in bold masses that many of our woody subjects are at their spectacular best. A single Azalea is a lovely thing, but a grouping of two dozen, all in bloom at the one time, is something to take your breath away.

* * *

The answer to this problem is to buy the very best single specimens we can possibly afford, then propagate from these until we have enough plants for massing. This won't work with all subjects, for some kinds are too difficult for amateur propagation, but there are plenty of others which are as easy to raise as a slip of Wandering Jew or a cutting of mint.

* * *

Three of the easiest shrubs to propagate from slips are the hydrangea, the mock orange and the honeysuckle. Simply cut a piece of branch about a foot long, dip the lower end in rooting powder and stick it in the ground. Nine times out of ten, such casual treatment will give you another bush in no time at all.

Daphne mezereum is a particularly attractive subject and, while not too easy from cuttings, it is easy to raise from seed. The catch here is that purchased seed isn't worth a pinch of coon feathers, for it must be sown as soon as ripe. This means scrounging some of the poisonous berries from the neighbors, or better still, using the seeds from your own bush.

* * *

Even then, you're not quite out of the woods, for it isn't easy to judge the exact moment when the seeds are ripe. The easiest way out of this dilemma, is to let the parent shrub decide the matter. Keep the ground under the plant well cultivated and finely pulverized and let it drop its seeds whenever it sees fit. Given this natural treatment and timing, you'll have hundreds of healthy young seedlings springing up around the parent plant.

Cotoneaster horizontalis, the herringbone bush, is another shrub that breeds like a rabbit when left to itself. I've never had much luck when the berries were gathered and sown under glass but I have literally hundreds of self-sown seedlings in the ground under the plants.

* * *

It is a cinch to get more plants from the popular and free-flowering forsythia. A strong and healthy specimen will be well furnished with branches right down to the base and these lower branches will put forth roots on their own wherever they come in contact with the ground. All you need do is make a small notch in the underside of such a branch, then weigh it down and cover the notched portion with a mound of rich, sandy soil.

Let's Keep Wilderness Wild

I think Robert Moses is a great man. In some areas. I also think he's foolish in many interesting ways. Of course, you can argue that all the great men are bloody fools about something or other and one of Mr. Moses's particular areas of unreason is the automobile.

Mr. Moses, who is chairman of New York State Council of Parks, thinks there is no situation that a six-lane highway won't cure, a proposition that I consider highly debatable. The idea that the automobile has absolute rights to invade any area is one of the silliest if not downright evil ideas our best thinkers have to overthrow.

* * *

One small step in this direction is the so-called wilderness bill now under study in the New York state legislature. In the state's 1,000,000-odd acres of forest preserve, the bill sets aside certain wilderness areas from which cars and jeeps and airplanes and motorboats would be excluded. This is eminently sensible. With a burgeoning and increasingly prosperous population, there are constant pressures to commercialize areas that were set aside as "forever wild," an increasingly forlorn phrase.

However, the automobile changes the whole nature of a wilderness. Jeeps have invaded some of the remote wilderness areas, bringing in, among other things, portable stoves (which increase fire hazards), cases of whisky (which increase it even more) and all the other debris of civilization which breaks wilderness down into just another litter area. What the wilderness bill attempts to do is not to close these areas to the public, but to close them to the mechanical monsters of civilization. The public is free to come on the two feet that God gave them, carrying what supplies they can manage on their backs.

* * *

As an old Wisconsin camper—we used to portage the canoes on our own shoulders—I find this a refreshing limitation on the gasoline engine and one that is greatly overdue. But not Mr. Moses, who came charging out of his lair the other night to assault the wilderness bill as "a monstrosity."

"The rank and file of the people in our cities must be taught life in the open. They can't rough it in the sense of sleeping in tents and on the ground," said Mr. Moses. "They require reasonable access, running water, and simply sanitary facilities."

That's what the man said. Now, why, Mr. Moses, can't the rank and file—and I'm rank and file as any man in this house—rough it? Why can't they sleep in the open and on the ground, Mr. M.? What is so soft, lazy, and downright sissy about the rank and file of American people that they can't sleep on the ground as their forefathers did?

If they want roads, cabins, reasonable access (which is another way of saying they want to bring the station wagon) and running water and simple sanitary facilities (a tree is the best simple sanitary facility every made), then, damn it, they ought to go someplace else besides the wilderness area. If they need all those things, then they're not wilderness people and there are plenty of resort areas where they can flush toilets, race their engines all day long, and sleep on box mattresses.

* * *

By its very nature, a wilderness should not be too easy to get to, too easy to penetrate, and too easy to get out of. That's half the fun and all the challenge. It should also not be too full of the rank and file, at any one time. There's nothing undemocratic about that. No one's being locked out, as Mr. Moses suggests, except those too lazy to paddle or walk.

The people who want wilderness want wilderness, not sanitary facilities, for crying out loud. Moses is trying to make sissies of us.

Advice to Winnipeg

Water Jets Can Cut Those Sewer Suds

VANCOUVER (CP) — A Vancouver engineer says high pressure water jets would squelch the soap suds flowing out of Winnipeg sewers.

Frank Bunnell, deputy engineer for the Greater Vancouver Sewerage and Drainage Board, said the board) anticipated the problem in the design of its sewer outlets.

"We found that if high pressure water jets are aimed at suds where they build up after aerating, the suds are quickly broken down," he said.

Winnipeg sewage officials said the battle of the bubbles has baffled them.

There the suds form a snow-like cover over the Red River after flowing from treatment plants.

Officials said the household detergents flushed into the city's sewer system are also killing fish in the river.

The Winnipeg officials cited one case where employees of a treatment plant were forced to evacuate as bubbles filled the building and threatened to cut off their air supply.

President Given Picture of View

VANCOUVER (CP) — President Asgeir Asgeirsson of Iceland yesterday was presented with a picture of a view he admired in Vancouver. The presentation was made by Mayor Tom Alsbury.

Mr. Asgeirsson commented on the view of the city from the mayor's office during a brief visit to city hall. It was almost the same view as that of a framed photograph later presented him by the mayor.

The president and his wife met city aldermen, signed the visitors' book and toured council chambers before leaving Vancouver by air for eastern Canada on their way home.

MPs Approve

Millions for Sports

OTTAWA (UPI) — The House of Commons last night passed and sent to the Senate the federal government's legislation to aid amateur sport and physical fitness with a $5,000,000 a year grant.

The bill was given third reading after Health Minister Monteith said it would spark "a sound, broadly-based and sustained effort" across the country.

But Monteith called on private organizations to join in "a whole new development" in athletic facilities and achievement, to help restore Canada's sagging prestige in the international sporting arena.

"We recognize that the objectives of this program cannot be attained in a vacuum," he said. "But it is our expectation that this present initiative will furnish that new spark and that new dynamic leadership necessary."

Monteith said the national sports advisory council, which will administer the program, will have up to 30 members, including representatives of both federal and provincial governments.

Fog Brings Seaway Worst Jam in Years

Canada Protests 'To Cloud Faults'

WINNIPEG (CP) — Lord Morrison, former British deputy prime minister, says he disagrees with Canadian government objections to Britain's entry into the Common Market.

The 70-year-old statesman said Monday Canada is disputing Britain's position on the issue only "to cloud over faults in Ottawa's financial administration."

By not joining the market, he said, Britain would be excluded from a market of 250,000,000 people. Britain had to protect her industry.

In Calgary, Liberal leader Lester Pearson lashed out at "harsh strictures levelled publicly" against the United Kingdom in its bid to join the market.

"I do not accept bleak prophecies that any move by the United Kingdom to join the Common Market must be on such terms as to shatter Commonwealth trade and disrupt the very structure of the Commonwealth," he said.

"We can take care of our own Canadian interests without such public protests."

Troika 'Entrenches Cold War'

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

The chief points of President Kennedy's address to the UN General Assembly yesterday:

TROIKA—The United States rejects the Russian suggestion of a veto-loaded triumvirate to fill the late Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold's position because it would "entrench the cold war in the headquarters of peace."

* * *

DISARMAMENT—Six-point plan: 1. Test ban treaty. 2. Cease production of fissionable materials for use in weapons and their transfer to any nation lacking nuclear weapons. 3. Prohibit transfer of control of nuclear weapons to states that do not now own them. 4. Keep nuclear weapons from seeding new battlefields in outer space. 5. Gradual destruction of existing nuclear weapons and conversion of nuclear materials for peaceful uses. 6. Halt unlimited testing and production of strategic nuclear vehicles and gradually destroy them.

* * *

BERLIN—The Western powers have resolved to defend, by whatever means forced upon them, their obligations, the free access, and rights of the citizens of West Berlin. Kennedy said he believes a peaceful agreement is possible and reported that the possibilities of negotiation are being explored.

* * *

UN PEACE FORCE—All UN members should earmark special peace-keeping units in their armed forces to be on call to the United Nations. He said the American delegation would suggest improvements in the UN machinery for on-the-spot fact-finding, mediation and adjudication of international disputes.

* * *

OUTER SPACE—The United Nations charter should be amended to preserve outer space for peaceful use and prohibit weapons of mass destruction in space or on celestial bodies. Kennedy said the United States would propose co-operative efforts in weather prediction and control and a global system of communication satellites for telegraph, telephone, radio and TV.

* * *

UN "DECADE OF DEVELOPMENT"—The 1960s should be designated as a "decade of development" to expand and co-ordinate UN efforts in promoting economic growth throughout the world.

ASSEMBLY GETS PLAN TO OUTLAW WEAPONS

PRESIDENT KENNEDY
. . . plan for peace

Arms Cuts Urged In Easy Stages

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—The United States yesterday submitted to the General Assembly a new arms plan calling for outlawing weapons of mass destruction and stabilizing military strength of the major powers at 2,100,000 men.

The plan was submitted for Assembly consideration soon after President Kennedy proposed to the delegates that "disarmament negotiations resume promptly and contine without interruption until an entire program for general and complete disarmament has not only been agreed upon but has been actually achieved."

PEACE FORCE URGED

The proposal calls for creation of an international disarmament organization under the United Nations, elimination of weapons of a peace observation commission and restriction of space to peaceful uses.

IN STAGES

Main feature of the new plan, informed sources said, was that it would call for reduction of arms as each stage of the proposal is agreed upon.

Soviet Ambassador Valerian Zorin, in his recent New York talks with John McCloy, President Kennedy's disarmament adviser, served notice that Russia would not permit inspection until all details of a "general and complete" disarmament program were agreed upon.

RED CHINA, TOO

Communist China would be called upon, under the new U.S. plan, to participate in disarmament. It was not made clear, however, whether the Peking regime would be given a voice in negotiations.

Disarmament talks broke down at Geneva in June 1960 when Russia walked out of a 10-nation forum, equally divided between Communist and Western countries. McCloy and Zorin last week informed the United Nations of their inability to agree on a set-up for resumption of talks.

Simplified, the new plan

Allies Hail Proposals

LONDON (Reuters)—The British, French and West German governments welcomed the disarmament proposals outlined before the United Nations General Assembly in New York by President Kennedy.

Britain gave its "full and enthusiastic support" to the proposals, a foreign office spokesman said.

SUPPORT PLEDGED

He said the United States government has "fully informed and consulted with their allies during all the stages of preparation" of the disarmament plan. "It has our full and enthusiastic support."

In Paris, usually well-informed sources said the French government approved of the president's proposals.

'HEARTY WELCOME'

In Bonn, a government spokesman said West Germany gave the "heartiest welcome" to Kennedy's proposals and the government would do all in its power to support them.

He said West Germany was ready to enter into any agreement on general and controlled disarmament that the major powers might make.

Khrushchev Removes Deadline

BONN (AP) — Premier Khrushchev is reported to have told Belgian Foreign Minister Paul Henri Spaak that he has removed the end-of-the-year deadline for a treaty with East Germany and "prefers slow negotiations to a quick war."

No 'Hostage'

British Foreign Secretary Lord Home was reported to have told Andrei Gromyko in New York yesterday that Soviet talk of Britain being a Moscow "hostage" against an outbreak of war is nonsense.

UN Agrees To Debate Red China

UNITED NATIONS (AP) —The United Nations General Assembly agreed Monday night to a full debate on the question of seating Red China. This is the first time in 10 years that the issue was not shelved.

'Call Truce To Terror' UN Told

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — President Kennedy told the United Nations Monday the planet is in danger of being turned into a "flaming funeral pyre" and he pleaded:

"Let us call a truce to terror."

Addressing the 99-member General Assembly for the first time, Kennedy outlined a disarmament formula and challenged the Soviet Union to a "peace race" rather than an arms race.

The 43-year-old president sought to rally the smaller and neutral nations to the Western stand on such burning problems as disarmament, Berlin and the UN itself.

The United States has "both the will and the weapons" to defend freedom, Kennedy said, but it seeks peaceful negotiations not military conflict.

He vigorously attacked Premier Khrushchev's plan for a three-man "troika" to succeed the late UN Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold. The troika envisages a three-man executive directorate — representing the West, communism and neutralism — with three-way veto powers and which, in the view of the West, would render the UN impotent.

'Only Two Forces'

"In this hall there are not three forces, but only two," Kennedy declared. "One is composed of those who are trying to build the kind of world described . . . in the UN charter. The other, seeking a different world, would undermine this organization in the process."

Kennedy was interrupted six times by applause but it was difficult to tell whether this was warmer among delegates in the assembly or in the packed gallery.

Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko applauded the president as he took the rostrum but the Russian and the other members of his delegation were conspicuously silent and still during the speech and at its end, when Kennedy received a 40-second ovation. Later Gromyko told Kennedy when they met off the assembly floor, "you were in good form."

Senator A. J. Brooks, vice-chairman of the Canadian delegation, termed the speech "excellent." British Foreign Secretary Lord Home and Ambassador C. S. Jha of India used the same phrase—"a very fine speech."

Canada Takes Part

Spokesmen said Britain and Canada had taken part in drawing up Kennedy's six point disarmament plan which seeks to re-open the East-West negotiations that collapsed in Geneva in June, 1960.

Kennedy devoted more space to disarmament than any other single subject, his plan mostly involving changes in timing to meet Russian objections. The plan provides for freezing of nuclear weapons production and possession virtually as soon as international controls to prevent cheating could be organized.

"The weapons of war must be abolished before they abolish us," Kennedy declared to applause.

He pressed Russia to sign with the U.S. and Britain immediately a treaty banning nuclear weapons tests under international controls. Such a treaty, said Kennedy, is "the logical place to begin" disarmament.

On Berlin, Kennedy said:

"If there is a dangerous crisis in Berlin—and there is—it is because of threats against the vital interests and deep commitments of the Western powers, and the freedom of West Berlin.

Reds Create 'Death Zone' To Plug Trickle of Escapes

BERLIN (UPI) — Communist bulldozers ground out a 300-foot-wide zone of death on the East Berlin side of the city border yesterday, crushing summer houses and garden plots blocking a view of the barbed wire barricade.

The aim was to establish a strip the length of the 25-mile border to end even the trickle of escapees.

A dozen East Berliners fled to the West yesterday and another 20 made it to safety during the night but hundreds of others were forced into trucks and driven away.

Meanwhile the news that Soviet Premier Khrushchev has indicated he may not rush through his separate peace treaty with East Germany was received with surprise by Bonn officials.

But political observers in Berlin noted that the East German propaganda machine no longer refers to any date in demanding conclusion of a German peace treaty and the turning of Berlin into a free demilitarized city.

'Had Enough'

West Germany's Chancellor Adenauer told a British TV audience last night he is thinking of retiring. The 85-year-old leader said, "I have had enough." He made little progress yesterday in talks to end the political deadlock in West Germany.

Canada 'Stirs Hate'

MOSCOW (CP)—The Soviet newspaper Red Star has accused "certain Canadian leaders" of stirring up a "war psychosis" in Canada.

The paper says Canadians, "obviously influenced by the militarist quarters of the United States," were using as a pretext for their alleged action "the proposal of the Soviet Union and other peace-loving countries to conclude a German peace treaty and normalize on its basis the situation in West Berlin."

Berlin Peace Seen by Green

TORONTO (UPI) — External Affairs Minister Howard Green said yesterday he is convinced the Berlin situation can be worked out and that it need not provoke a nuclear war.

Commonwealth Tolerance Urged

LONDON (Reuters)—Queen Elizabeth Monday formally opened the seventh parliamentary conference of the British Commonwealth whose members face the problem of Britain's possible entry into the European Common Market.

The 120 delegates from 64 countries attending the conference start business sessions today, and the Commonwealth's new role if Britain joins the European trade group was expected to dominate discussions.

Both the Queen and Prime Minister Macmillan spoke to the opening session of the five-day conference at historic Westminster Hall.

The Queen said the "strength and unity of the Commonwealth family does not lie in bonds forged by formal instruments nor in common ancestry nor in pursuing the same political line."

"It springs," she said, "from the knowledge that we all share a lively concern for individual freedom and all the machinery which makes this possible."

The Queen asked Commonwealth statesmen to try to "cultivate the virtues of tolerance and understanding, to recognize each other's qualities and respect each other's feelings."

Macmillan, speaking afterwards, said the Commonwealth could set an example to other nations in a world poised between "hope and despair."

He said the Commonwealth had the experience of "reconciling different approaches without abandoning national policies and independence."

Storm Keeps Miners Far Down for Night

SUDBURY, Ont. (CP)—An electrical storm early Saturday knocked out hydro service in a mine shaft at nearby Creighton, stalling the elevator and forcing workers to stay in the shaft overnight.

"There was never any danger," a mine official said.

Divorce Law Coming

OTTAWA (UPI)—The federal government said yesterday it hoped to introduce legislation at the next session of parliament to deal with the controversial question of divorce bills from Quebec and Newfoundland.

A brief statement in the Commons by House leader Gordon Churchill to this effect cleared the way for the passage of some 350 divorce bills which had been piling up on the order paper for almost a year.

Veterans Affairs Minister Churchill said the problem was "under study" by the government and it "has hopes of presenting to this House at the next session some proposal in this regard."

The bills, handled by parliament because there are no divorce courts in the two provinces, were given second reading — approval in principle — and sent to the Commons miscellaneous bills committee for detailed study.

Frank Howard (CCF — Skeena), one of two CCF MPs who have blocked the divorce bills by filibustering over the last two years, said he welcomed the government's assurance.

Howard and Arnold Peters (CCF—Timiskaming) have effectively blocked passage of the contentious bills to point up the need for eliminating alleged perjury and collusion in parliamentary divorce cases. They urged that parliament be rid of the responsibility.

Liberal spokesman J. W. Pickersgill also welcomed the move. He said the divorce petitioners should be given relief by parliament.

Police Take No Sides Mayor to Tell Labor

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mayor Tom Alsbury said Monday Vancouver police lean over backward not to take sides in labor disputes.

He said he does not think there is any validity in the B.C. Federation of Labor's charges of police interference in a dispute between the Retail, Wholesale Union and Taylor, Pearson and Carson (B.C.) Ltd.

The mayor said he will invite the federation officials to present their charges to city council next week.

Federation secretary-treasurer E. P. O'Neal had said police and dogs "are being employed to harass trade unionists engaged in peaceful picketing in support of their just demands."

Royal Bank Employee Sought Again in Brazil

SANTOS, Brazil (AP) — Police sought court permission Monday to take Peter Smith Watson back into custody pending further check into charges he was allegedly involved in an embezzlement of more than $1,000,000 from a branch of the Royal Bank of Canada here.

Watson, 31, native of Brechin, Scotland, was detained by police last week after discovery of an alleged bank shortage, and later released.

Watson probably will be held without bail until police press a specific charge or let him go.

Police also are searching for Alejandro Mario Capurro, a depositor in the bank.

Caldough, Aides Plead Not Guilty

VANCOUVER (CP)—George Caldough pleaded not guilty Monday at a special assize court hearing of fraud charges involving $385,000.

Caldough, 32, appeared before Mr. Justice J. G. Ruttan on charges of conspiracy, defrauding the public and circulating false statements with intent to induce people to become shareholders in certain companies.

Two men charged with him, Ronald Smith, 42, Sheffield, England, and Leonard Udell, 34, West Vancouver, pleaded not guilty to the same charges.

The charges arise out of a stock promotion scheme alleged to have been carried on in Vancouver and Whitehorse, YT involving U.S. investors.

Three companies, Great Northwest Investment Ltd., Mount Baker Investments Ltd. and Eagle Plains Development Co. Ltd., were also charged.

Special prosecutor George Murray entered a stay of proceedings on charges against a fourth company, Eagle Plains Explorations.

Caldough has been in jail since his arrest in England last November, unable to raise bail of $75,000.

HOW GOSSIPS BREAK THE LAW—Have you ever "talked about" a neighbour in a derogatory way? Have you ever commented out loud before witnesses on someone's drinking or moral habits? Have you ever referred to a politician as a crook or a doctor as a quack? Watch it! You can be sued! This article tells how loose talk can cost you money.

OTTAWA'S PASS-CATCHING POLITICIAN—The great Ottawa Rough Rider end Bob Simpson is catching more than passes as he performs brilliantly for the Grey Cup champions; he's also snaring votes. Touted as a possible all-time scoring champion of Canadian football, Simpson has fun too. Trent Frayne tells the inside story of the one-time dead end kid from Windsor.

HOME AND SCHOOL A WASTE OF TIME, BUT—A Star Weekly writer who served as president of a Home and School Association says they can be a waste of time the way they are run now but they need not be. In a provocative article, he makes specific suggestions as to how "dead duck" Home and School Associations can be changed into vital influences in Canadian life.

NEW FACES FOR OLD—These days it seems that almost all men and women in our culture want to appear younger than they really are. To meet this demand the medical profession has perfected a relatively old technique for removing wrinkles called "face peeling." The doctors call it superficial chemosurgery. It can make you look younger but it's dangerous in the hands of the medically untrained.

Mayor Won't Accept Official Report

Mayor Percy Scurrah indicated yesterday he won't accept an official report that Victoria's preliminary census shows "no evidence of under-enumeration." The mayor said the drop of 723 shown by the census is of vital importance to the city—"not from the point of view of pride but of dollars and cents" in per capita grants from the province over the next five years. He will continue to press for a recount.

Guzzwell 'Needs the Money'

Historic Trekka Up for Sale For Mere $4,750 in U.S.

Bring Her Home Victorians Asked

The sturdy little yawl Trekka, which brought world-wide publicity to the city of Victoria during a 33,000-mile cruise around the world by her lone skipper-owner John Guzzwell, is up for sale, the Colonist learned last night.

Lt.-Col. D. Stewart Mitchell, 10467 All Bay, who fears the city may lose forever the best "ambassador" it has ever had, said the Trekka is lying at anchor in San Pedro, Calif., where anyone can buy her for a mere $4,750.

Skipper Guzzwell was welcomed here by thousands at the end of his four-year cruise in September, 1959. At that time, he dashed hopes from various quarters that the Victoria-built boat should be placed in Thunderbird Park beside her predecessor, the famous Tilikum.

NEEDS MONEY

Trekka was "not for sale and too good a boat to be enshrined," he said then.

"She's up for sale now," said Col. Mitchell. "Unfortunately, he (Guzzwell) needs the money."

Skipper Guzzwell and his wife arrived here last week on a government ferry, it is believed, leaving Trekka at San Diego at the end of a cruise which started in June this year.

Not even their closest friends here knew they were going when Trekka slipped anchor and sailed quietly away from Canoe Cove.

START A FUND

Keel of the 20½-foot Trekka was glued together in the basement of the YMCA at 1203 Blanshard. The hull was completed behind a View Street fish and chip shop.

Col. Mitchell agrees with others here that Trekka should be exhibited in Victoria. He hopes someone will start a fund to purchase the historic vessel.

She should stay in Victoria, not go to a Yankee with all due respects to our friends below the border," he said.

NEVER BETTER

"I hope to start a fund and buy the boat so it can live in Victoria the rest of its days, where it should be. They've never had a better ambassador. We'd like to get her into the B.C. Maritime Museum."

He said he has spoken to Guzzwell, who offered to deliver Trekka to Victoria for $4,000.

Two Dogs Sought By Owners

Two dogs, a black Labrador female named Duchess and a German shepherd pup answering to the name of Duke are being sought by owners Mr. and Mrs. Larry Walker, Sooke Road.

The pair, missing from home since Friday afternoon, are believed to be in the Sooke Road area and owners ask anyone seeing them to phone GR 8-1606.

Neighbors have reported their own dogs raising a fuss during the last few nights leading owners to believe the dogs are still in the area.

Less Bang at 9 Army Assures Unhappy Public

By JACK FRY

Firing of a gun at Work Point at noon and 9 p.m. has become such a routine procedure that military and civil officials no longer know how or when the custom originated.

City officials have plenty of information about another familiar sound in this area, the 9.30 p.m. curfew whistle at the brewery. But this too has its complications — police say they can't enforce the curfew bylaw.

PLASTER LOOSE

Attention was drawn to the 9 o'clock gun recently by a number of local residents who complained the daily blast jars plaster loose in their homes, breaks windows and frightens women, children and household pets.

Army officials said yesterday they will investigate the possibility of reducing the noise and "ensure that any adverse effects to the civilian populace are minimized."

They were at a loss, along with civic officials, as to when the twice-daily custom started and whether it has any significance beyond obvious time signals at noon and 9 p.m.

"The exact history of this ritual is not known by serving members of the Esquimalt garrison," said an army spokesman, who added "a similar time-gun is fired by the army at Halifax."

ROYAL ENGINEERS

Another army spokesman said it may date back to the days when the Royal Engineers were stationed here.

In post-war years, a Second World War anti-tank gun was used for the daily signals until little more than a year ago when it was hauled away and replaced by a 105-millimetre field artillery piece.

NEED 50 MORE

Chief Constable John Blackstock said he would need 50 more men to enforce the curfew bylaw.

The curfew bylaw, passed in 1943 and suspended by a similar bylaw in 1959, requires that children under 16 be off the streets by 9.30 p.m.

DAILY WARNING

The downtown brewery is paid $100 a year to sound the daily warning.

Under terms of the bylaw, offenders are warned by police. If they are caught a second time they are to be taken home by the police. If this happens repeatedly, parents or guardians can be taken to court and fined a maximum of $5.

Chinese Opera Big Hit

A Chinese operatic performance at the Royal Theatre Sunday netted the Ching Won Dramatic Society of Vancouver $4000 profits which will be spent on charity, it was reported yesterday.

About 80 per cent of the downstairs seats were taken, mostly by Chinese, in the performance which lasted five hours.

"People loved it. We're more than happy," a spokesman said.

Sea-Going Pickets Decry Log Boom

Women of View Royal set up a sea-going picket line yesterday morning, then learned later in the day that some of their worst fears were groundless.

For almost a year View Royal residents have been fighting a move by local lumber companies to get a foreshore lease in the adjacent harbor for log booms.

Their protest, at a meeting last October, won them the assurance of the government that they would be notified if any such step was taken.

Thursday a piledriver was moved into the nearby waters of Esquimalt Harbor, and Friday work was started to install dolphins for a log boom.

Sure that the dreaded lease had been granted without their being notified, a group of View Royal women set out yesterday morning in rowboats, and picketed the piledriver.

'STILL CLEAR'

Lloyd Young, 284 Helmcken, president of the embattled View Royal Ratepayers' Association, yesterday afternoon had an interview with Lands and Forest Minister Ray Williston.

Mr. Williston was able to show him, by an old map, that the lease which the new piledriving work is going on is an old one—not threatening a new foreshore lease.

"It is a lease that had never been developed," Mr. Young said later, "so the inshore area is still clear.

"Our members will be asked to maintain a constant patrol on inshore waters. If any violation occurs, it will be reported and acted on at once."

Youths Escape In Crash

Driver and two passengers escaped injury when their car went out of control at a sharp corner on Townley Road last night and flipped on its side, ending up in a flower bed.

Saanich police said driver was Ronald Bruce Morley, 17, of 3291 Cedar Hill Road. Passengers were Terry Brandon, 17, of 3831 Cedar Hill Cross Road, and Brian Lamb, 17, of 4190 Cedar Hill Road.

Weekend Crime

Safe Burned, Looted Thieves Rob Visitors

A stolen, torched safe headed a list of city break-ins during the weekend that netted thieves about $800.

City police were advised early Sunday a small safe, still smouldering, had been found in bushes off Munn Road in Saanich.

PAPER FOUND

A partially-burned paper from the safe bore the name of the Independent Order of Foresters, 2618 Quadra.

In city court yesterday, Richard Allen Main, 903 North Park, and Stanley Charles Rife, 723 Yates, were charged with breaking, entering and theft at the IOF premises.

BAIL WAS SET

Both requested remands to Oct. 2 for election of trial method and bail was set at $1,000 each.

While Forester officials said most of the organization's money had been banked Friday, the safe contained about $161 in cash and $181 in cheques.

Two apartments in downtown motels were reported prowled overnight Sunday. Roy McBride, general manager and coach of the Spokane Comets hockey team, said someone entered by an unlocked door and stole $350.

MONEY CLIP

The thief lifted a pair of pants from a rack inside the door of a motel room at 427 Belleville and removed a money clip and a leather case.

Other victims were Mr. and Mrs. S. Schmidt of Seattle. The thief entered by an unlocked door to a room in a motel at 520 Menzies, stealing a woman's purse holding a small amount of money and a man's wallet containing about $100.

Police were also investigating a break-in at the Begbie Street Store, Begbie and Stanley, where possibly some soft drinks were stolen.

In a break-in at the Health and Welfare Centre, 1947 Cook, only article stolen was a voucher.

Other thieves took $21 from a cigaret machine in the Four Jacks Cafe, 1311 Blanshard. The cafe's record selector machines and pinball machines also were forced.

University Enrolment May Touch 1,750 Mark

Fall term enrolment at Victoria University may go as high as 1,750 when the last stragglers are in, a spokesman said here yesterday.

Latest available figures show total for the arts and science faculty stands at 1,091 and there are 630 education students. This gives an overall total enrolment of 1,721.

College officials reported, however, that the totals won't be firm until the end of this week.

Restoration Bid

Bastion Square Action Urged

A Chamber of Commerce committee for the preservation of historic buildings is preparing a detailed and illustrated brief to present to the chamber on the possibilities of restoring Bastion Square.

Dr. Hugh Borsman, chairman, said after a committee meeting yesterday that any restoration of the area must be done "on sound business principles or it won't work."

It would achieve no purpose to carry out such a project for the sole purpose of saving some old buildings. Restoration must be done in such a way it will pay for itself, he said. "We can't subsidize it forever."

Something has to be done with the area which is run down now and "becoming more and more decrepit," he said.

Initiative must be shown by the city and provincial governments because the small businessmen who would occupy restored buildings there don't have the kind of money it will take to get the project started, said Dr. Borsman.

Sam Lane Named

'Lots of Centennial Ideas'

A well-known booster of the tourist trade here, Sam Lane of the Olde England Inn, was given a centennial project yesterday.

Mr. Lane, a founder and past president of the Esquimalt Lions Club, was named chairman of a centennial sub-committee which will attempt to co-ordinate 1962 centennial projects among the local service clubs.

"I have a lot of ideas but they couldn't go into print yet until the first meetings of an exploratory nature are held," he said.

"I hope to inject into our service clubs a feeling of co-operation in making the centennial one of the biggest possible. We will want to stay with a traditional theme appropriate to such a great birthday celebration on a community-wide basis," said Mr. Lane.

"First, we will have to find out from the clubs the amount of co-operation we're liable to get and whether it will be one big project or alternatively individual efforts towards the overall promotion."

B.C. Will Refuse Lawsuit Over Payment for BCE

LEGAL BRIEF: Although it will be some time before the official announcement is made, the provincial government will reject a petition from B.C. Power Corp. to sue the government for more compensation as a result of the takeover of the B.C. Electric Co.

The official reason will be that the legislature was the body that approved the terms of the compensation and that the cabinet has no authority to override such a decision.

Hence the petition will be rejected.

Incidentally, since the government took over the BCE Aug. 1, at least six people have been given permission by the cabinet to sue the new Crown corporation.

All these suits have been the result of negligence claims —such as a pedestrian hit by a BCE bus.

PASSING PARADE: Fall has really arrived—just ask any of the gardeners at the legislative buildings. All their time these days is being spent raking up leaves from the nearby oak trees.

FAR AWAY FIELDS: Victoria Jaycees will visit the Esquimalt Arena en masse this week before taking a vote on whether to hold next year's Jaycee fair there instead of at Memorial Arena.

The Jaycees sent out a committee the other night to view the facilities at Esquimalt, and its report was favorable.

In the meantime the Jaycees are wondering how it was their letter asking that Blanshard Street, in front of Memorial Arena, be closed for the midway became public knowledge so the Greater Victoria Celebrations' Association had time to send in a letter of its own asking the Jaycee request be denied.

Founder of the Greater Victoria Celebrations' Association is M. Frank Hunter, the city clerk.

If the Jaycees vote to hold their fair in Esquimalt, the move will cost the Memorial Arena commission some $8,000 in lost revenue.

THE COMMON TOUCH: Say what you like about Highways Minister P. A. Gaglardi there's something about him that enables people who have never even met him before to greet him as a long-lost friend. It is surprising how many meeting chairmen introducing the cabinet to an audience will intone "The Hon. Wesley Black, minister of municipal affairs; the Hon. Ray Williston, minister of lands and forests, Phil Gaglardi; the Hon. Earle Westwood . . ." etc.

FLOTSAM AND JETSAM: As an aftermath to the egg-throwing parade by Victoria University students, city real estate salesman John Bennett comments: "Isn't it evident that our college students are more interested in fiddling while Rome burns?" . . . MPs Approve

Millions for Sports

OTTAWA (UPI) — The House of Commons last night passed and sent to the Senate the federal government's legislation to aid amateur sport and physical fitness with a $5,000,000 a year grant.

The bill was given third reading after Health Minister Monteith said it would spark "a sound, broadly-based and sustained effort" across the country.

But Monteith called on private organizations to join in, "a whole new development" in athletic facilities and achievement, to help restore Canada's sagging prestige in the international sporting arena.

"We recognize that the objectives of this program cannot be attained in a vacuum," he said. "But it is our expectation that this present initiative will furnish that new spark and that new dynamic leadership necessary."

Monteith said the national sports advisory council, which will administer the program, will have up to 30 members, including representatives of both federal and provincial governments.

Fog Brings Seaway Worst Jam in Years

MONTREAL (CP)—Thick fog tied up shipping on the St. Lawrence Seaway for about three hours Monday. Shipping officials called it the worst natural tie-up in years. Traffic on the seaway was affected from Sorel to Cornwall, a distance of about 120 miles.

Canada Protests 'To Cloud Faults'

WINNIPEG (CP) — Lord Morrison, former British deputy prime minister, says he disagrees with Canadian government objections to Britain's entry into the Common Market.

The 70-year-old statesman said Monday Canada is disputing Britain's position on the issue only "to cloud over faults in Ottawa's financial administration."

By not joining the market, he said, Britain would be excluded from a market of 250,000,000 people. Britain had to protect her industry.

In Calgary, Liberal leader Lester Pearson lashed out at "harsh strictures levelled publicly" against the United Kingdom in its bid to join the market.

"I do not accept bleak prophecies that any move by the United Kingdom to join the Common Market must be on such terms as to shatter Commonwealth trade and disrupt the very structure of the Commonwealth," he said.

"We can take care of our own Canadian interests without such public protests."

Transfusion Tale 'Far Out of Date'

QUALICUM BEACH — Adverse publicity on the subject of blood transfusions in an article in a recent issue of Maclean's Magazine was challenged by two speakers at the Red Cross regional meeting held at the Qualicum Beach Inn under chairmanship of Mrs. Elaine Dobbyn, regional vice-president.

Mr. Justice H. J. Sullivan, president of the B.C. division, said statements made by the author were termed from 14 to 15 years out of date by a panel of doctors and techniques he described in the article in question are no longer used.

Dr. P. G. Ashmore, noted Vancouver heart surgeon who has performed several "open heart" surgery operations, stressed the value of blood transfusions and the invaluable support given by the Red Cross in this service.

Of great interest was the presence at the meeting of eight-year-old Danny Doyle of Campbell River, who at the age of five had the operation on a "hole in the heart." It was successfully performed by Dr. Ashmore.

Lieutenant-Governor Pearkes called for a strong effort this year to win the sympathy and co-operation of groups in kindred activities and to revive branches that have died out.

More Pinks Seen Test Still in Doubt

PORT ALBERNI — In the past 10 days fisheries officials have been given reason for hope in the success of an experiment with pink salmon in the Robertson Creek spawning grounds.

Three pinks turned up at Robertson Creek on the week end of Sept. 16-17 and during the following week about a dozen more were observed.

Eggs were planted in the area in 1959 in an experiment to establish whether the fish would return to the site where they had hatched rather than to their ancestral stream.

The pink salmon has a two-year cycle and men in charge of the project have been watching through September for the return of the mature salmon which left Robertson Creek as youngsters in 1959.

A spokesman for the fisheries department said that, although the run is small so far, it is hoped more of the salmon will show up this week.

Some pinks have been seen in Alberni Inlet, but it is not yet known whether they are part of the Robertson Creek contingent.

In past years a few pink salmon entered local streams to spawn, but if the experiment is a success several million more will be added to the population in the next two years.

Lemo Canute

Oldest Member Lost By Cowichan Band

COWICHAN — Oldest member of the Cowichan Indian Band, Lemo Canute died Sunday at the Nanaimo Indian Hospital. He was in his 93rd year according to the records, but it is believed he was probably much nearer 100.

His son-in-law, Joe Elliott, puts his age at 96 but an Indian department official said that, because of the unreliability of some early records, he could be over 100.

Mr. Canute was the head of a large family which includes his widow Josephine, who survives, four sons, one daughter, 21 grandchildren, 11 great-grandchildren and 21 great-great-grandchildren.

Mr. Elliott said that a few weeks ago his father-in-law went for a camping jaunt to Cowichan Bay together with his wife and took a chill. He became sick and was taken to King's Daughters' Hospital in Duncan where he remained for a while. His condition worsened and he was removed to the Indian hospital in Nanaimo.

He had been a farmer in the Comiaken district, where he was born, for half a century.

His home is close to the Old Stone Church, local landmark, and the family burial plot is close by.

ANGLIA's built for both sides of the road ... (or the ocean!)

In England, on The Continent, and right here in Canada, Anglia repeatedly proves to be the BIG LITTLE CAR. In England for example, gasoline costs the equivalent of 75¢ a gallon. More little cars are sold there than any other car regardless of size or make! The reason isn't just economy either. Take style. From gleaming grille to raked-back roof Anglia proves that a little car needn't be homely. As for performance, Anglia's rally-rousing habits are fast becoming legend with automobile men the world 'round. Economy! Style! Performance! Add them all up and you realize Anglia isn't just the BIG car in the little car class—it's really in a class by itself. Prove these facts to yourself. Test drive Anglia at your nearest Anglia-Consul-Zephyr dealer's. He's in the little car business so he talks a good little car price.

Troika 'Entrenches Cold War'

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

The chief points of President Kennedy's address to the UN General Assembly yesterday:

TROIKA—The United States rejects the Russian suggestion of a veto-loaded triumvirate to fill the late Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold's position because it would "entrench the cold war in the headquarters of peace."

* * *

DISARMAMENT—Six-point plan: 1. Test ban treaty. 2. Cease production of fissionable materials for use in weapons and their transfer to any nation lacking nuclear weapons. 3. Prohibit transfer of control of nuclear weapons to states that do not now own them. 4. Keep nuclear weapons from seeding new battlefields in outer space. 5. Gradual destruction of existing nuclear weapons and conversion of nuclear materials for peaceful uses. 6. Halt unlimited testing and production of strategic nuclear vehicles and gradually destroy them.

* * *

BERLIN—The Western powers have resolved to defend, by whatever means forced upon them, their obligations, the free access and rights of the citizens of West Berlin. Kennedy said he believes a peaceful agreement is possible and reported that the possibilities of negotiation are being explored.

* * *

UN PEACE FORCE—All UN members should earmark special peace-keeping units in their armed forces to be on call to the United Nations. He said the American delegation would suggest improvements in the UN machinery for on-the-spot fact-finding, mediation and adjudication of international disputes.

* * *

OUTER SPACE—The United Nations charter should be amended to preserve outer space for peaceful use and prohibit weapons of mass destruction in space or on celestial bodies. Kennedy said the United States would propose co-operative efforts in weather prediction and control and a global system of communication satellites for telegraph, telephone, radio and TV.

* * *

UN "DECADE OF DEVELOPMENT"—The 1960s should be designated as a "decade of development" to expand and co-ordinate UN efforts in promoting economic growth throughout the world.

Allies Hail Proposals

LONDON (Reuters)—The British, French and West German governments welcomed the disarmament proposals outlined before the United Nations General Assembly in New York by President Kennedy.

Britain gave its "full and enthusiastic support" to the proposals, a foreign office spokesman said.

SUPPORT PLEDGED

He said the United States government has "fully informed and consulted with their allies during all the stages of preparation" of the disarmament plan. "It has our full and enthusiastic support."

In Paris, usually well-informed sources said the French government approved of the president's proposals.

'HEARTY WELCOME'

In Bonn, a government spokesman said West Germany gave the "heartiest welcome" to Kennedy's proposals and the government would do all in its power to support them.

He said West Germany was ready to enter into any agreement on general and controlled disarmament that the major powers might make.

Khrushchev Removes Deadline

BONN (AP) — Premier Khrushchev is reported to have told Belgian Foreign Minister Paul Henri Spaak that he has removed the end-of-the-year deadline for a treaty with East Germany and "prefers slow negotiations to a quick war."

No 'Hostage'

British Foreign Secretary Lord Home was reported to have told Andrei Gromyko in New York yesterday that Soviet talk of Britain being a Moscow "hostage" against an outbreak of war is nonsense.

UN Agrees To Debate Red China

UNITED NATIONS (AP) —The United Nations General Assembly agreed Monday night to a full debate on the question of seating Red China. This is the first time in 10 years that the issue was not shelved.

Cut Manpower To 2,100,000

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—The United States yesterday submitted to the General Assembly a new arms plan calling for outlawing weapons of mass destruction and stabilizing military strength of the major powers at 2,100,000 men.

The plan was submitted for Assembly consideration soon after President Kennedy proposed to the delegates that "disarmament negotiations resume promptly and continue without interruption until an entire program for general and complete disarmament has not only been agreed upon but has been actually achieved."

PEACE FORCE URGED

The proposal calls for creation of an international disarmament organization under the United Nations, elimination of weapons of a peace observation commission and restriction of space to peaceful uses.

IN STAGES

Main feature of the new plan, informed sources said, was that it would call for reduction of arms as each stage of the proposal is agreed upon.

Soviet Ambassador Valerian Zorin, in his recent New York talks with John McCloy, President Kennedy's disarmament adviser, served notice that Russia would not permit inspection until all details of a "general and complete" disarmament program were agreed upon.

RED CHINA, TOO

Communist China would be called upon, under the new U.S. plan, to participate in disarmament. It was not made clear, however, whether the Peking regime would be given a voice in negotiations.

Disarmament talks broke down at Geneva in June, 1960, when Russia walked out of a 10-nation forum, equally divided between Communist and Western countries. McCloy and Zorin last week informed the United Nations of their inability to agree on a set-up for resumption of talks.

Simplified, the new plan

... peace plan

'Call Truce To Terror' —Kennedy

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — President Kennedy told the United Nations Monday the planet is in danger of being turned into a "flaming funeral pyre" and he pleaded:

"Let us call a truce to terror."

Addressing the 99-member General Assembly for the first time, Kennedy outlined a disarmament formula and challenged the Soviet Union to a "peace race" rather than an arms race.

The 44-year-old president sought to rally the smaller and neutral nations to the Western stand on such burning problems as disarmament, Berlin and the UN itself.

The United States has "both the will and the weapons" to defend freedom, Kennedy said, but it seeks peaceful negotiations not military conflict.

He vigorously attacked Premier Khrushchev's plan for a three-man "troika" to succeed the late UN Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold. The troika envisages a three-man executive directorate — representing the West, communism and neutralism — with three-way veto powers and which, in the view of the West, would render the UN impotent.

'Only Two Forces'

"In this hall there are not three forces, but only two," Kennedy declared. "One is composed of those who are trying to build the kind of world described . . . in the UN charter. The other, seeking a different world, would undermine this organization in the process."

Kennedy was interrupted six times by applause but it was difficult to tell whether this was warmer among delegates in the assembly or in the packed gallery.

Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko applauded the president as he took the rostrum but the Russian and the other members of his delegation were conspicuously silent and still during the speech and at its end, when Kennedy received a 40-second ovation. Later Gromyko told Kennedy when they met off the assembly floor, "you were in good form."

Senator A. J. Brooks, vice-chairman of the Canadian delegation, termed the speech "excellent." British Foreign Secretary Lord Home and Ambassador C. S. Jha of India used the same phrase—"a very fine speech."

Canada Takes Part

Spokesmen said Britain and Canada had taken part in drawing up Kennedy's six-point disarmament plan which seeks to re-open the East-West negotiations that collapsed in Geneva in June, 1960.

Kennedy devoted more space to disarmament than any other single subject, his plan mostly involving changes in timing to meet Russian objections. The plan provides for freezing of nuclear weapons production and possession virtually as soon as international controls to prevent cheating could be organized.

"The weapons of war must be abolished before they abolish us," Kennedy declared to applause.

He pressed Russia to sign with the U.S. and Britain immediately a treaty banning nuclear weapons tests under international controls. Such a treaty, said Kennedy, is "the logical place to begin" disarmament.

On Berlin, Kennedy said:

"If there is a dangerous crisis in Berlin—and there is—it is because of threats against the vital interests and deep commitments of the Western powers, and the freedom of West Berlin."

Reds Create 'Death Zone' To Plug Trickle of Escapes

BERLIN (UPI) — Communist bulldozers ground out a 300-foot-wide zone of death on the East Berlin side of the city border yesterday, crushing summer houses and garden plots blocking a view of the barbed wire barricade.

The aim was to establish a strip the length of the 25-mile border to end even the trickle of escapees.

A dozen East Berliners fled to the West yesterday and another 20 made it to safety during the night but hundreds of others were forced into trucks and driven away.

BONN SURPRISED

Meanwhile, the news that Soviet Premier Khrushchev has indicated he may not rush through his separate peace treaty with East Germany was received with surprise by Bonn officials.

But political observers in Berlin noted that the East German propaganda machine no longer refers to any date in demanding conclusion of a German peace treaty and the turning of Berlin into a free demilitarized city.

* * *

'Had Enough'

West Germany's Chancellor Adenauer told a British TV audience last night he is thinking of retiring. The 85-year-old leader said, "I have had enough." He made little progress yesterday in talks to end the political deadlock in West Germany.

Canada 'Stirs Hate'

MOSCOW (CP)—The Soviet newspaper Red Star has accused "certain Canadian leaders" of stirring up a "war psychosis" in Canada.

The paper says Canadians, "obviously influenced by the militarist quarters of the United States," were using as a pretext for their alleged action "the proposal of the Soviet Union and other peace-loving countries to conclude a German peace treaty and normalize on its basis the situation in West Berlin."

Berlin Peace Seen by Green

TORONTO (UPI) — External Affairs Minister Howard Green said yesterday he is convinced the Berlin situation can be worked out and that it need not provoke a nuclear war.

Commonwealth Tolerance Urged

LONDON (Reuters)—Queen Elizabeth Monday formally opened the seventh parliamentary conference of the British Commonwealth whose members face the problem of Britain's possible entry into the European Common Market.

The 120 delegates from 64 countries attending the conference start business sessions today, and the Commonwealth's new role if Britain joins the European trade group was expected to dominate discussions.

Both the Queen and Prime Minister Macmillan spoke to the opening session of the five-day conference at historic Westminster Hall.

The Queen said the "strength and unity of the Commonwealth family does not lie in bonds forged by formal instruments nor in common ancestry nor in pursuing the same political line."

"It springs," she said, "from the knowledge that we all share a lively concern for individual freedom and all the machinery which makes this possible."

The Queen asked Commonwealth statesmen to try to "cultivate the virtues of tolerance and understanding, to recognize each other's qualities and respect each other's feelings."

Macmillan, speaking afterwards, said the Commonwealth could set an example to other nations in a world poised between "hope and despair."

He said the Commonwealth had the experience of "reconciling different approaches without abandoning national policies and independence."
